WILSON'S MESSAGE EXPECTED TO CREATE REVOLT IN GERMANY

Believed President's Indictment of Hohenzollernism Will Move People to Take Government Into Own Hands.

ENTENTE WILL LISTEN TO THE GERMAN PEOPLE

But Not to the Overlords and Military Despots--The Note Expected to Impress Favorably the Russian Convention.

Washington, August 20.—Discussion of President Wilson's rejection of the pope's peace proposals in diplomatic circles today revealed that even some of the entente governments were unprepared for the prompt fashion in which the president disposed of a matter of such tremendous importance.

There had been no doubt at any time as to the general nature of the reply, and the understanding is that the United States was generally looked upon as the nation to speak first, but some of the allied foreign offices, accustomed so long to deliberated moves in diplomacy, regarded the exchanges that had been going on between Washington and their own capitals as barely completed. They had rather expected further discussion of the time for dispatching replies.

It is realized, however, by the entente representatives in Washington that President Wilson must have had some good and sufficient reason for acting so quickly. Speculation ascribes the motive to a desire to impress favorably the great Russian convention at Moscow while that body is still in a receptive state. It also was suggested that the president might have wished to anticipate by his remarkable state paper obstructive action by the pacifist elements in and out of congress in the United States.

Revolt Expected in Germany.

No rejoinder from the vatican is expected here in the immediate future. Comment from the press from Europe, including Germany and Austria, is awaited with interest. Bitter attacks upon the American note by the German press and possibly condemnatory speeches by German officials are fully expected when the president's reply is finally allowed to leak through the censorship to the German public. But for the present, at least, no more attempts at peace negotiations on the old basis, involving a continuance in power of the present autocratic regime, is anticipated.

While the Germans may wage war with added desperation because of the sweeping indictment of their methods, it is confidently believed here that the spirit of revolt will develop steadily and rapidly among the people in Germany, bringing nearer the day when they will assert themselves to the point where President Wilson may feel safe in listening to peace overtures in the conviction that they are from German people themselves and not from the overlords and military despots.

President Wilson realizes the force of the objection that has come from some quarters of what might be regarded as a disposition on his part to impose a form of government on Germany. It can be stated that nothing was farther from his thought than such a disposition. He meant just what he said in the note, that the word of the present autocratic rulers of Germany cannot be taken for anything that is to endure unless supported by the will of the people themselves. As to whether Germany has an imperial or a republican form of government, it is conceded that the remainder of the world has nothing to do.

Reform Struggle in Germany.

The struggle for militar y reform is being watched with the k eenest interest, and while it was said at the state department today that no official advices are as yet at hand regarding the developments, it would not be a matter of surprise if there were some sudden and important manifestation of the popular will in Germany. Signs of such an outcome are found in the halfway efforts of Premier Michaelis to meet the demands of the reichstag committee by his projected cabinet representatives of the more powerful political parties in Germany, certainly a long step in the direction of parliamentary control of the government.

The German-Argentine negotiations, insincere and hollow as they are believed to be on the part of Germany, are viewed officially here as another evidence of the weakening of Germany's aggressive policies and to that extent as perhaps designed to mollify the United States government as well as neutral maritime nations and so afford a fresh basis for peace negotiations.

When the response to Pope Benedict's peace proposals will go forward from the allied governments is not known to the state department, which is yet without official information that its own communication has reached the vatican.

Approval of the president's note was expressed generally at the capitol today by members of all parties. There was no discussion of it on the floor of either house, although Senator Stone touched upon the subject of peace in a speech denouncing newspapers for attacking him. He said he never had intended introducing a peace resolution, as some of his critics had stated.

Youth Is Anxious To Stay in Jail With His Mother

Little "Ootie" Guiffrida, Who Was Kidnaped Last Tuesday, Objects Strenuously to Action of Sheriff in Removing Him From Jail.

After nine hours in the Fulton county jail little "Ootie" Guiffrida, 8-year-old son of Dr. Frank Guiffrida, whose mother was arrested in Savannah Tuesday night on the charge of having kidnaped the lad from the home of his father, 419 Ormond street, spent last night in a comfortable and cosy room in an Atlanta home.

Although barred from the kiddies in the streets, away from the "sojers" and "flivvers" and everything else that appeals to a lad of his age, "Ootie" had been perfectly satisfied because his mother and his "new daddy" and his auntie and her son were in jail with him. He was contented to stay there just as long as they'd let the family party be together.

So, when Sheriff Lowry, armed with a writ of habeas corpus granted Dr. Guiffrida by Judge Pendleton, came into the reception room of the old jail, which served as the "cell" for "Ootie's" family, and said he was going to take "Ootie" home with him until the mother and her companions, who are charged with the kidnaping, shall have a hearing before Judge Hathcock in the municipal court this afternoon, "Ootie" cried and screamed and kicked up an awful fuss because he had to leave his "mudder."

"Ootie" Wanted "Mudder."

Sheriff Lowry told "Ootie" he'd be more comfortable in a "regular bed" and in a "regular home," but "Ootie" would have none of it—without "mudder." The sheriff was obdurate, however, and off went "Ootie," screaming and calling loudly to be taken back to "de jail and me mudder." The mother cried bitterly at the separation; the lad's "auntie" cried, too, and there were tears in the eyes of "Ootie's" "new daddy" and auntie's son, all of whom were brought from Savannah Wednesday morning on the kidnaping charge made by Dr. Guiffrida.

"Ootie's" mother, now Mrs. E. G. Wright; the latter's husband, whom 'Ootie" calls affectionately his "new daddy;" Mrs. E. P. Woodberry, sister of Mrs. Wright, and Mrs. Woodberry's eldest son, C. P. Woodberry, Jr., are still in jail under bond awaiting trial Thursday afternoon.

They were all before Judge Hathcock Wednesday afternoon for a hearing on the kidnaping charge. John S. McClelland, their attorney, was ready to go on with the case, but Attorney Archibald Davis, representing Dr. Guiffrida, asked a postponement until he had subpoenaed a number of witnesses whom, he said, would testify to the actual kidnaping of the lad by those under arrest.

Attorney McClelland agreed, in an effort to bring the case to a trial, to admit as true all that the prosecuting attorney's witnesses might testify, but Judge Hathcock agreed that a postponement was necessary. He granted Attorney McClelland's appeal for a reduction to $200 bail each in the case of all the prisoners except Mrs. Wright, the boy's mother, who is under $500 bail.

Then Dr. Guiffrida went before Judge Pendleton and procured a habeas corpus writ, giving "Ootie" into the custody of the sheriff. So "Ootie" went to Sheriff Lowry's home, and the mother, the "new daddy," the aunt and the Woodberry boy stayed in jail. The case is set for 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Didn't Want Father.

"Ootie" doesn't want to go back to his daddy—Dr. Guiffrida. The doctor called to see "Ootie" in jail Wednesday morning just after Detective Sergeant Bullard brought the prisoners from Savannah. When "Ootie"—his regular name is Emile, by the way—saw his father he screamed and ran to his mother. Efforts of the jailers to get the boy to come out and speak to his father were without result. "Ootie" just hugged his mother until "daddy" left the jail.

When "Ootie" was in Judge Hathcock's court during the afternoon, the father entered and walked directly to the boy, smiling. He stroked "Ootles" head a bit, but the boy hid his face in his mother's lap and wouldn't look up. Not once did he turn his face in the direction of his daddy. But he had hugs and kisses for his "mudder" and his "new daddy."

Mrs. Wright says she obtained a divorce from Dr. Guiffrida in Little Rock and that there was no legal disposition of their three children. There is with Mrs. Wright, in Savannah, a daughter 18 years old. Sheriff Lowry has the second child, and the third is at Dr. Guiffrida's home.

Story of the Kidnaping.

Mrs. Wright says she really didn't "kidnap" little "Ootie," as the doctor charges. She was on her way by auto to Savannah, she said, and stopped off in Atlanta to "get" Ootie, after having previously written Dr. Guiffrida's present wife that she was coming to take "Ootie." She drove her automobile near the boy's home, she explained, and called to "Ootie" to get in to the car. "Ootie" was delighted at the opportunity, said the mother, and "kidnaping" the child, she insisted, was far from her thoughts. In fact, she said, she tried several times, after taking "Ootie," to get Dr. Guiffrida on the phone and tell him she was taking the boy back with her to Savannah, but that the wire was busy and she just figured she'd wait until she got home and would write the doctor about the boy.

Then came Detective Sergeant Bullard to Mrs. Woodberry's hotel in Savannah, where Mrs. Wright and boy were stopping, with a warrant for the mother's arrest. The husband, Mrs. Woodberry and the latter's son, all of whom were in the automobile when "Ootie" was taken, came along with Mrs. Wright and were held here as accessories in the alleged "kidnaping."

"There was nothing theatrical about the kidnaping," insisted Mrs. Wright. "No 'velled women' or loud screaming by the boy, and no resistance whatever on the lad's part. Ask him now if he wants to go to his father or stay in jail with his mother. Just put the question to him and listen to his answer."

The reporter asked "Ootie," and, without the slightest hesitation, the boy looked up out of those big, brown eyes, and fairly shouted:

"I want me mudder—that's all."

And it was all, as far as "Ootie" was concerned.

Ten Suffragists Fined.

ATLANTA IS READY TO FURNISH WATER FOR CAMP GORDON

Main Is Now Completed, and Water Will Be Turned on Either Thursday or Friday Morning.

3,000 OFFICERS HERE TO TRAIN DRAFT ARMY

Several Hundred More Officers Expected Within the Next Few Days — Camp Organization Announced.

Practically every one of the approximately 3,000 officers who will train the selective service men for the new national army division at Camp Gordon had arrived at the camp by sundown Wednesday and were assigned to their several commands and to their quarters.

General Eben Swift and his regular army officers who will command the camp and its several larger units arrived last Saturday.

The newly-commissioned men of the Officers' Reserve corps, who were trained at the officers' training camp at Fort McPherson, arrived and reported Wednesday. Something more than 1,000 of these officers reached the camp, leaving only a few hundred to report within the next few days.

When these new officers arrived they found orders already posted attaching them for duty with the various companies which will be formed at the camp during the coming month.

Assigned to Quarters.

The arrival of the reserve corps officers found everything in readiness for them. They were all assigned to quarters, though in most instances temporary quarters.

The water for the camp will be turned on Thursday or Friday through the new 16-inch water main, which has just been completed from the city to the camp. This water connection was the biggest obstacle in the way of receiving the national army men at Camp Gordon, and now that this problem is solved, everything is in readiness for the program of bringing the men to the camp to be carried out.

Major J. N. Pease, in charge of the construction of the cantonment, stated Wednesday that there are plenty of accommodations already completed for the 5 per cent contingent which is due to arrive from September 5 to September 9, and that by the time the rest of the men arrive for training the entire cantonment will be completed. Construction is rushed right along every day, without confusion and with good progress.

No Smoking in Buildings.

Thorough fire protection is now being provided, and until this provision is made, orders have been issued for "no smoking" in any of the buildings except by permanent residents in offices or barracks. Any smoking by others must not be indulged in within twenty feet of any building or inflammable material.

Peachtree road was heavy with traffic Wednesday bearing the reserve corps officers to the camp. Many took their baggage out with them and established themselves permanently. Others came back to the city and will wait several days before they go to the camp to live.

Major Pease has vacated the building formerly used by him as a construction quartermaster's headquarters and has taken a section of the post-office building at the camp.

Major General Swift has occupied as temporary headquarters the building formerly occupied by Major Pease. General Swift will use this building until the completion of divisional headquarters building in the cantonment.

Visit General Swift.

W. Zode Smith, superintendent of waterworks; Mayor Candler, Police Chief W. M. Mayo and Albert Thompson, executive secretary to Mayor Candler, all paid a return visit to General Eben Swift Wednesday, and informed him that the water connections for the big main would be completed by Wednesday night.

General Swift complimented Superintendent Smith upon his work in completing the big main, which is nearly ten miles long, in so short a time. When the government asked the city to build a big main, Superintendent Smith told the Council of National Defense at Washington that it would require fifty working days for him to lay such a big main for so long a distance. He began work on July 2, and has completed the work fifty-eight days afterwards. Counting out the Sundays and the rainy days on which no work could be done, and allowing about ten days more for delay in receiving material, the city officials think that Superintendent Smith has accomplished quite a piece of engineering work for his department.

A total of 2,500,000 gallons of water daily is the capacity of the big main. At the cantonment it has a static pressure of fifty pounds, and a minimum velocity at zero-flowing pressure of three feet per second.

The government has already erected three to five 200,000-gallon capacity tanks at the cantonment. These tanks will be filled each night and drawn from in the daytime, which will prevent all the load of the heavy day demand falling on the pumps at the Hemphill avenue station pumps.

Five auxiliary pumps will be installed inside the cantonment grounds to secure sufficient pressure to pump the water through the four-inch and 12-inch mains which interline the streets of the cantonment. They are not large pumps, but sufficient to create a very high pressure in case of fire at the camp.

The cost of laying the big main to Camp Gordon from the city amounts to approximately $184,000. This cost will be met by a special tax levy of ⅛ of 1 per cent per $100 assessable property, which is to be paid immediately by property owners.

Officers Are Assigned.

He Ruined Girl And Killed Man Whom She Wed

Sensational Evidence at the Trial of Captain Brown for Killing Gambill—Mrs. Gambill Admits Relations With Brown.

Kingston, Tenn., August 29.—Sensational testimony of the relations that existed for years between Captain Tom Brown, of Rockwood, and his stenographer, Miss Addie Walker, now the widow of Frank Gambill, whom Captain Brown killed January 18, of this year, was brought out today in the trial of Brown on the charge of murder. The woman herself, a witness for the state, told a story of her intimacy with the defendant for years before her marriage to Gambill, and greatly surprised the packed court room with a confession that about two years ago she became the mother of a child of which Captain Brown was the father, its birth having taken place in Chattanooga.

There were no eye-witnesses to the shooting, which took place in the Roane Iron company commissary office at Chamberlain, just across the river from Rockwood, but Sam Smalley, a farmer, testified that he went into the room just after the shooting had occurred and that Gambill was lying on the floor with a poker lying between his feet. Gambill's coat was buttoned and there was a pistol in his inside pocket.

James Sparks, Gambill's associate in road building contracts in Meigs county, who accompanied Gambill on the fatal trip to the commissary office, but who remained outside, testified that after the shots were fired, Brown came to the door and declared, "You're the cause of this," and repeated this so emphatically that Sparks said he thought the defendant was referring to the fact that his stenographer had married Gambill.

Mrs. Gambill was the next witness. She said she had known Brown for about fourteen years, and had worked for him two years and three months before her marriage to Gambill. She said she met Brown when she was 17 years old. For years, she said, there had been improper relations between herself and Brown. He gave her numerous costly presents, including a gold watch, four rings, a necklace and a locket, and she said she thought Brown intended marrying her. When she determined to marry Gambill, with whom she had been keeping company only a short time, she said Brown declared he would make her regret her marriage and that he would never let her live with Gambill. He told her, she said, of men he had killed in Knoxville.

The witness declared she had never told her husband of her intimacy with Brown.

The state rested here and Captain Brown took the stand and admitted the relations with her which she charged, but declared that these relations began when she was about 23 years old and ended about two years ago. Captain Brown said that Gambill came to the office where the tragedy took place for the purpose of raising trouble. They had a quarrel, he said, and he swore that Gambill attacked him with a poker, and that when he thought his life was in danger he fired.

Captain Brown will continue his testimony tomorrow.

MRS. CHOSEWOOD REPORTED DROWNED

Mr. Chosewood and Two Daughters Saved When Launch Went Down, Members of Family Hear.

Mrs. C. L. Chosewood, of 34 Confederate avenue, was drowned near Darien, Ga., yesterday, according to reports received in Atlanta last night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chosewood and two daughters, Elsie and Frances, were on a launch that went down Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock. Mr. Chosewood and his daughters had a narrow escape from death.

Mr. and Mrs. Chosewood left Atlanta Sunday night for Savannah and after spending two or three days there were to go to Darien to visit Mr. Chosewood's brother.

Wednesday morning they took the launch for Wolfe island and before reaching their destination the boat sank.

Members of the family in Atlanta made every effort last night to secure additional details of the accident, but were unable to communicate with friends in Darien.

COMMITTEE TO AID TROLLEY COMPANY IN GETTING RAILS

Following Agreement to Lay Double Tracks, Public Safety Body Takes Up the Matter With U. S. Quartermaster's Department.

CITY WILL CO-OPERATE WITH CHAMBER LEADERS

Subcommittee of the Committee on Freight Rates Named to Assist Public Safety Committee.

Following the announcement of Preston Arkwright, of the Georgia Railway and Power company, Wednesday afternoon, that the finance committee and the directors of the company had decided to comply with the request of the public safety committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce for the construction of a double-track trolley line to Camp Gordon, on condition the company is able to get the necessary rails, the public safety committee immediately set to work to aid the company in securing the rails.

The company is making every effort to locate enough rails to build the track, and the public safety committee is at the same time so engaged.

Telegrams have been exchanged between the public safety committee and Colonel Littel, of the United States construction quartermaster's department, to get the aid of the government in having enough rails released to fill the company's order for the construction of the double track. Wednesday night the problem of securing the rails had not been solved, but members of the committee were hopeful that the rails will be in sight within the next few days.

City Will Give Aid.

Council's committee on freight rates and transportation met Wednesday morning and appointed a subcommittee, composed of Councilman Orme, chairman; Alderman Richardson and Alderman Kelley, to co-operate with the public safety committee.

At the meeting it was suggested that the Southern railway extend its proposed shuttle-train service from Camp Gordon into the city, instead of to Hemphill avenue.

It was pointed out that, while the Terminal station may be crowded to capacity, it is possible that the Union station could be used as a terminus for the shuttle-train service.

The sub-committee called on Chairman Wilkinson, of the public safety committee, and offered its services in securing proper transportation facilities.

Recommendation Approved.

Following the meeting of the finance committee of the Georgia Railway and Power company in Boston Tuesday, when that committee decided to recommend the construction of the double track to Camp Gordon, the directors of the power company met in Atlanta Wednesday and approved the recommendation of the finance committee, on condition the company is able to get the rails.

President Arkwright announced the decision of the directors early Wednesday afternoon.

"The finance committee of the company advised the building of the double track; it was up to the board of directors to authorize it," said Mr. Arkwright. "The board did so at this meeting. That, I think, is about all that is necessary to tell about the meeting.

"Only two objections, as I have originally stated, stod in the way of building of the double track. One was the cost; the other was the material.

"The company will get the money, that is decided.

"We have all the material except the rails. And we are going to expend every possible effort to get the rails. Make no mistake about that. We will do our best to get them. If we get them, the track will be built at once."

The company already has rails enough for the construction of the three miles of single track from the present terminus of the Brookhaven line to the camp.

Six Miles of Track.

It will take rails for the construction of six more miles of track to build the other line, which will have to start at the terminus of the present double tracks of the Brookhaven line, at Dead Man's curve, Peachtree road.

The company now has an order for 300 tons of rails placed with the Loraine Steel company, for the release of which the public safety committee is now asking the construction quartermaster's department. Meanwhile the company is trying elsewhere to obtain rails. It has bought enough rails out of stock from a Detroit concern for the construction of three miles of the additional track, and it is probable that these rails will arrive before the rails from the Loraine company, which will have to be rolled.

Mr. Arkwright stated that the single-track line will be completed to Camp Gordon by the middle of October. The start upon the construction of the additional tracks will depend upon when more rails are available.

Double Track Necessary.

Following an inspection of Camp Gordon and its transportation facilities, C. Murphey Candler, chairman of the state railroad commission, yesterday emphasized the absolute necessity for a double-track line to the cantonment. He declared also that at least three dirt roads are needed for automobile and wagon traffic to and from the camp.

"There will be times, of course, when a dozen tracks will not be able to handle the traffic to Camp Gordon," said Chairman Candler. "But there ought to be ample transportation facilities for ordinary occasions."

Chairman Candler declared the railroad commission will take no hand in the transportation muddle unless there shall be formal complaint from some source. It has no jurisdiction except to act in response to complaints, he added.

DISLOYAL TO COLORS, RUSS TROOPS DESERT AS ENEMY ADVANCES

According to Petrograd, Entire Division in Southern Moldavia Refused to Fight and Fled in Disorder.

STRONG POINTS YIELDED BY DESERTING RUSSIANS

Austro-Germans Have Materially Bettered Their Positions—Disaster to All of Moldavia Seems to Be Threatened.

New York, August 29.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—The disaffection in the Russian army which resulted in the forced evacuation of the greater part of Galicia and Bukowina by still loyal troops apparently has not been eradicated, although a stiffening in the Russian defense in Galicia, Bukowina and Rumania recently had indicated that the Russians were to make no more voluntary retrograde movements.

Following Tuesday's reports of the falling back by the Russians in eastern Bukowina toward the Bessarabia frontier comes the news that, disloyal to their colors, the Russians in southern Moldavia, from Fokshani northward, have quit their trenches and fled in disorder. The enemy, by reason of this defection, has materially bettered his positions for an advance eastward, and at last accounts was continuing to develop his success.

The Berlin war office says the Russians have suffered heavily in men killed and wounded, and have lost more than 1,000 men made prisoner and three guns and fifty machine guns.

In addition, they have given up splendid vantage points guarding the approaches to the Sereth river, the crossing of which by the enemy, taken in connection with an invasion of Moldavia from Bukowina, undoubtedly would result in disaster to all Moldavia and also prove a valuable asset for a Teutonic advance toward Russian territory north of the bend in the Danube.

Meanwhile, M. Kerensky, the Russian premier, has reiterated to the closing session of the conference at Moscow the determination of the provisional government to protect the results achieved by the revolution and declared that no counter revolutionary attempts would be countenanced.

FIGHT TO DESTROY CHILD LABOR LAW

Test Case Being Heard in Federal Court--Opponents of Law Say It Is Clearly Unconstitutional.

Greensboro, N. C., August 29.—Arguments which are expected to consume another full day were begun in federal district court here today in the first test case of the new federal child labor law. The constitutionality of the law was one of the chief points argued by both sides to the case, while its opponents also termed it a violation of state's rights and declared it would be possible for canneries affected to evade its regulations, while other industries could not do so without loss.

The law, which becomes effective September 1, prohibits employment of children under 14 in any factory, mill, workshop or cannery whose products are to be shipped in interstate commerce and provides an eight-hour day for children of 14 and 15. The suit was brought in the form of injunction proceedings by Roland H. Dagenhart, of Charlotte, N. C., and his minor sons, Reuben and John, by which they sought to restrain the Fidelity Manufacturing company from discharging the youths from its Charlotte cotton mill. William C. Hammer, federal district attorney, also was made a defendant.

Imposing Array of Counsel.

The importance of the suit was indicated by an imposing array of counsel. Professor Roscoe Pound, dean of law of Harvard university, and Professor Thomas I. Parkinson, of Columbia university, appeared as leading counsel for the department of justice, while Junius Parker, a former North Carolinian and now of New York; Clement Manley, of Winscon-Salem, and Judge W. P. Bynum, of Greensboro, are of counsel for the plaintiffs.

The first argument for the plaintiffs today was made by Mr. Parker. He declared that the act is "fundamentally at odds with the law of the nation;" that it does not prohibit child labor nor interstate commerce in products of such labor, inasmuch as a manufacturer might make his goods by the work of "babes in arms," close his mill for thirty days and legally tender the goods for interstate shipment without violating the Keating-Owen law.

The act, Mr. Parker contended, represents an attempt of congress to make a man engaged in interstate commerce "amenable to it for his past conduct," and thereby "takes police powers of a rigid sort," and that in passing the law the congress went beyond the limitations of its specially delegated powers and violated the eleventh amendment to the constitution. Mr. Parker also declared that the act violates the fifth amendment, in that if it is not a specifically delegated power of congress the act is deprivatory of property without due process of law.

Declares Act Valid.

Professor Pound in arguing the constitutionality of the law said there are two essential reasons for the child labor law, and that it is not an "irrational, unreasonable and arbitrary control" congress has over interstate commerce.

The first reason, he said, is the protection of people of states which do not employ child labor from unwitting patronage of manufacturers who do use children in their factories, and the national legislature has the right and the duty to take into consideration the "repugnance the majority of people might feel to having brought to their homes goods made by childish hands and to pass a law to forbid the use of channels of interstate commerce to the spread of such articles."

The second reason for the law, Professor Pound said, is that permission of interstate commerce in goods manufactured by child labor in one state brings a "tremendous economic pressure on states with more humane, beneficent laws," to relax or repeal those laws; or acts to prevent states with "a progressive mind" from enacting laws which would force competition with adult labor.

Mr. Manley, in the second argument for the plaintiffs, declared the act to be a "grave invasion of the state's rights and a clear attack upon the constitution." He regards the issue as the greatest he has debated before any court.

Mr. Manley contended that canneries will not be seriously affected by the law. Judge James E. Boyd, presiding, asked why? Mr. Manley replied that canneries would be virtually exempt, and could continue employing children of any age they desired, inasmuch as it would be easy, he contended, for canneries to finish their work, shut down for thirty days and then put their goods on the market. He claimed this "loop hole" for the canneries to avoid the law is not open to the cotton mills, as it would be economically impossible for such a factory to close for thirty days. The law provides that products made by child labor in violation of its provisions shall not be shipped in interstate commerce for thirty days after their manufacture.

During the argument of counsel the "lottery" decision was often referred to. Both sides took it as having many points of similarity and of dissimilarity. The pure food and drugs act and the Mann white slave act were also brought into the discussion.

Son of a Congressman To Be Put Under Arrest For Failing to Register

Madison, Wis., August 29.—United States District Attorney Wolfe announced today that he would swear out a warrant for the arrest of Byron Nelson, son of Congressman John M. Nelson, on the ground that the young man did not register under the selective draft law.

Nelson was in Canada on registration day and has been employed there since on his father's farm. He claims exemption from registration on the ground that he is not now in the United States and has not been since the date of the draft.

Congressman Nelson recently made a statement in which he explained that his son was not required to register while in Canada; that he went there in April to raise wheat, moved by patriotic impulse, and was honored by the university as a war worker; that he would be manager of the farm next year, and that he stands ready to register in Canada as soon as treaty arrangements are made for Americans to register there under the American registry law.

A United States marshal will leave for Alberta, Canada, tonight to arrange for the extradition of young Nelson.

STORMY WEATHER ON WESTERN FRONT.

A continuation of the stormy weather is still holding up major operations in France and Belgium, although the British here and there still are engaged in minor trench raiding activities, in which small positions have been captured and additional prisoners taken.

The fighting on the Verdun front for the moment also has reached a pause, only the big guns being active. There have been artillery duels along the Aisne front.

Hard fighting is in progress between the Italians and Austrians on the Bainsizza plateau and on the heights around Gorizia. In the former sector the Austrians are defending tenaciously a powerfully fortified line to which the Italians have come within striking distance. In the fighting the Italians are still using large numbers of airplanes, which are effectively bombarding enemy positions. More than 1,000 additional prisoners and numbers of machine guns have been taken by the Italians.

To the south, on the Carso plateau, the heavy fighting of last week has given way to artillery duels and patrol encounters.

Eighteen British merchant vessels of more than 1,600 tons, and five of less than 1,600 tons were sunk by mines or submarines last wek, three more in

RUSSIAN DIVISION FLEES IN DISORDER WITHOUT FIGHTING

Petrograd, August 29.—A Russian division yesterday abandoned its positions in the region of Fokshani, on the Rumanian front, and fled in disorder, the war office announces.

The statement says that the enemy continued to advance all day yesterday on the southern Rumanian front, reaching the line Trechty-Deus-Varnitza-Fitioneshti-Chyolianitchi. In the night Russian positions in the region of Varnitza were penetrated.

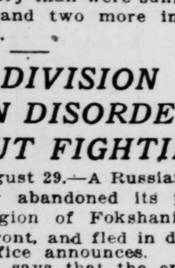

The announcement follows:

"Western Front: The fusillades were more intense in the direction of Brody.

"Rumanian Front: In the direction of Ocna, in the region north of Grozechti and north of Soveia, the enemy made stubborn attacks all through the day. The battle was waged with varying success. In the direction of Fokshani at daybreak yesterday the enemy, after artillery preparation, attacked our positions in the region of Muntcheliu. One of our divisions did not show the necessary resistance to the enemy and, having abandoned its positions, fled in disorder. The enemy continued to advance throughout the day, and has reached the line Trechty-Deus-Varnitza-Fitioneshti-Chyolianitchi. During the night the enemy, continuing to develop his success, penetrated our positions in the region of Vaonitza. On the remainder of the front there were fusillades.

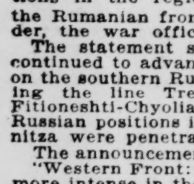

"Caucasian Front: North of Mush one of our scouting squadrons, having dislodged a Turkish company from its positions, conducted a successful reconnaissance in the region of Mush, retiring safely with some prisoners.

"Aviation: German airplanes dropped bombs on the railway station at Zamirie."

TEUTONS STORM HILL POSITIONS.

Berlin, August 29.—(Via London.)—In the Oituz valley region, on the Rumanian front, Teutonic forces stormed hill positions, says today's army headquarters announcement. More than six hundred prisoners were taken.

Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces, the announcement also states, captured the village of Muncelul and pushed back the opposing forces in a northwesterly direction past several positions on both sides of the Suchitza valley. Prisoners to the number of 1,000 and three guns were taken.

The text of the statement reads:

"Eastern Front—Front of Crown Prince Leopold: There were no important events.

"Front of Archduke Joseph: On both sides of Oituz valley, Silesian and Austro-Hungarian troops stormed some hill positions and repulsed strong counter attacks north of Grozechti. More than six hundred prisoners were brought in. The Rumanians advanced unsuccessfully at several points against the mountain front between the Casino and Putna valleys.

"Front of Field Marshal von Mackensen: On the edge of the mountain west of the Middle Sereth, after effective artillery preparation, Prussian, Bavarian, Saxon and Mecklenburg battalions in house-to-house fighting captured the village of Muncelul, and irresistibly pushed back the vanquished enemy in a northwesterly direction beyond several positions on both sides of Suchitza valley. By the impetuosity of the attacking forces strong Russo-Rumanian counter attacks were shattered. The enemy lost more than 1,000 prisoners, three guns and fifty machine guns and sustained heavy sanguinary losses.

"East of the Fokshani-Adjudal railway the only lively fighting activity was between the artillery forces.

"Macedonian Front: The artillery activity was very much stronger than recently, especially between the Vardar and Lake Doiran. Advance engagements on the eastern slopes of the Nidze Planina were successful for the Bulgarians."

ITALIANS STRIKE AT DEFENSIVE LINE OF THE AUSTRIANS

Rome, August 29.—The Italian troops pushing forward on the Bainrizza plateau have reached a powerful Austrian defensive line and are now attacking it, the war office announced. On the heights beyond Gorizia the Italians made gains.

The announcement follows:

"Fighting continued yesterday on the Bainsizza plateau. After having overcome the enemy rear guards our troops encountered and are at present making a powerful line of resistance which had been previously organized and which the enemy is defending with desperation. On the heights beyond Gorizia we made some gains.

"During the day we captured more than 1,000 prisoners and several machine guns. Altogether 247 airplanes participated in the battle. A squadron of forty capronic machines which took part in the action east of Gorizia dropped more than 7,000 kilograms of projectiles on enemy batteries in the Panovizza wood.

"On the Carso an artillery duel and patrol actions occurred.

"In the Stelvio region on the Trentino front the enemy at dawn Monday attacked one of our advanced posts on the glaciers in the upper Zebru valley and succeeded in penetrating it. Our men, however, were able to occupy a higher summit, from which they kept their old position under fire."

Reported From Thomson That Speer Has Decided In Jeffersonian's Favor

Thomson, Ga., August 29.—(Special.) It is reported here that Judge Speer has made a decision in favor of The Jeffersonian Publishing company in the government's recent action in barring The Weekly Jeffersonian from the mails as second-class matter, and that United States attorneys have prepared a restraining order, which means carrying the case to the United States supreme court for final decision. The report is not official.

Judge Speer is in the mountains of North Carolina. The first hearing in The Jeffersonian case, that of a petition for an injunction against the postmaster at Thomson from enforcing the order of the postoffice department, denying second-class privileges to The Jeffersonian, Thomas E. Watson's paper, was heard two weeks ago at Mount Airy, Ga., and the federal judge then cited the government to show specifically what was objectionable in The Jeffersonian to deny it the privileges accorded newspapers. The government filed an answer to this citation before the judge at Highland, N. C., last Saturday. Judge Speer then took the matter under advisement and the report now reaches here that Judge Speer has decided in favor of The Jeffersonian Publishing company.

Several papers in the United States, alleged to have been aiding the anti-draft agitators by their utterances opposing the conscription law, have been similarly barred, and if the decision has been rendered as reported here, it is of far-reaching interest.

HOTELS AND RESORTS

NOTICE

Commercial Travelers Greeting

The report has been circulated that the "ALABAMA HOTEL" at Anniston, Ala., is filled daily, to its capacity, and many are turned away, for lack of accommodation.

We wish to state that this report is erroneous, causing many to stay away, when accommodations can be had.

In anticipation of a heavy business, which may probably follow, with the arrival of troops at Camp McClellan, plans are being made, and work will begin shortly, on an annex, of from 75 to 100 rooms, to the ALABAMA HOTEL, which will insure ample facilities for the accommodation of the traveling public, coming to Anniston.

Respectfully,
THE ALABAMA HOTEL,
H. L. HODGE, Proprietor.

MACON BATTALION IS OFF TO WAR

Georgia Unit of "Rainbow Division," Under Major Cooper Winn, Leaves in Two Sections for Long Island, Thence to France.

By Frank Craigie.

Camp Harris, Macon, Ga., August 29. (Special.)—Well, they got away! And with bands moaning through all the sob-refrains they could dig from their repertoires, and with a conspicuous absence of hilarious shouting, thousands of comrades, thousands more of mothers and sisters, sweethearts and other people's sweethearts watched the pulling out of the two sections of the train which bore the One Hundred and Fifty-first Machine Gun battalion away from Camp Harris.

In some respects, the going away was very much like that of ten months ago, when the people watched their boys start on their long trip to the border. But there was a difference. Proudly they watched their young men go, yet the hour was a very sobering one. There was less of the lilting laugh of the youth out for a lark; and more, far more, of the straightforward look of the serious eyes, the calm, quiet look of fearless foreknowledge of the roads that must be marched and of the little wooden crosses that must mark the far-off green hills of Flanders before the boys all come back.

Officers on Hand Early.

Major Cooper D. Winn, Jr., was among the first to be alongside the spur track on which stood the tourist cars which were to bear his battalion away from the old camp. Colonel John G. Butler, Jr., of the First regiment, was there, with a large number of his officers. Three of his former lieutenants were in the departing contingent. Colonel Orville H. Hall, of the Fifth, was there with practically all of his staff and field officers, and a big percentage of his company commanders. Three of his lieutenants were in the battalion.

Practically every man in the whole brigade was there. The regimental bands alternated in playing until the last car of the last section rounded the curve at the camp's end, to the strains of "Dixie." But "Dixie" was about the only spirited air that came from the horns and reeds. They dug back to the 60's, and found the tuneful melodies of the farewells of those days. They slipped into the dreamiest of love songs and sobbed through them until the thronging crowds gave up all semblance of bravery and wept as women should weep when their men go to the wars.

The first section left at 1:49, the second at 2:18. They are due in Mineola "some time this week."

The Machine Gun Battalion.

The One Hundred and Fifty-first Machine Gun battalion, of the Eighty-fourth brigade, Forty-second division, is one of the newly-authorized units under the big plan of national defense. It is made up of a headquarters company, and of Companies B, C and F, of the Second Georgia infantry. The Forty-second—the "Rainbow division"—is the first volunteer force to concentrate for movement toward the battle ground of France. Following General Pershing's picked men from the regular army, they represent the elect of the national guardsmen of the country. They are a well-chosen sample of the thousands who have thronged to the flags of their states since Uncle Sam flung his gauntlet into the face of the Prussian war lord.

The remaining units of the brigade are driving hard through their training schedule. The movement of the whole armed force of the state—except of the coast artillery—to Camp Wheeler is a matter of only a few days' time. Major General F. J. Kernan has established his divisional headquarters in the very heart of the big cantonment site, and is directing his administration from that point. Indications are that orders will soon issue to draw into the new camp such scattered units as are guarding properties throughout the state. Then will begin the field training of the larger units of the big army.

Describing His Wife As "Shrew and Scold," Arth Asks for Divorce

Robert Arth, who applied to superior court Wednesday morning for a divorce, charges that his wife, Mrs. Sarah Arth, is a "shrew and a scold," and to prove his assertion he says incited his oldest son to "beat up his father," which the son duly did; that she stood by while the beating was in progress, crying, "Kill him, kill him, kill him!"

Arth further alleges that Mrs. Arth systematically taught their six children to hate their father. He says Mrs. Arth constantly threatens him with arrest, and on one occasion had him arrested and thereby broke up his business in LaGrange, Ga.

Arth is proprietor of a small junk business in Atlanta, and the defendant has a grocery store at 282 East Georgia avenue. Arth asks for custody of his five minor children.

"Unwritten Law" Fails Leading Georgia Farmer, Who Gets 8-Year Term

Lafayette, Ga., August 29.—(Special.) Judge Moses Wright today sentenced W. M. Mayfield, a prominent farmer of Cenchat, Ga., to eight years in prison for the murder of R. L. Gibbs, a neighbor farmer, last December. The jury recommended the defendant to the mercy of the court.

Mayfield relied on the unwritten law as justification for the shooting, claiming Gibbs made improper proposals to his daughter.

Young Boy and Father Placed Under Arrest When Booze Is Found

Will Chappel, a young white boy, was arrested in Cook's district Wednesday by County Policemen Cheshire, Carter and Davis, when he was found driving a five-passenger Dodge automobile in which was discovered a small quantity of whisky.

The father of the boy, J. H. Chappel, was also arrested and taken to the county jail, where he made bond. The boy was turned over to the juvenile court, and was placed on probation by the court.

The automobile was confiscated and the usual order for sale of the car will probably be asked.

PROF. HANNER, OF EMORY, IS BURIED AT OXFORD

Emory University, Oxford, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—The funeral service of Professor J. P. Hanner was held Tuesday afternoon at Allen Memorial church. The service was conducted by Bishop Warren A. Candler, assisted by Drs. James E. Dickey and E. F. Dempsey and Rev. M. S. Williams. The pallbearers were Drs. E. H. Johnson, E. K. Turner, W. F. Melton, Professors Goodrich C. White, J. G. Stipe and D. T. Stone.

A large number of friends and relatives from Atlanta and Tennessee and of Emory alumni were present. Professor Hanner was one of the most popular members of the Emory faculty.

REGIMENTAL STORES AT THE CANTONMENT

Every Convenience and Comfort Will Be Provided for Men at Camp Gordon.

One of the most important steps which have been taken to insure the comfort and convenience of the "rookies" of the national army, who will soon come pouring into Atlanta en route to Camp Gordon, is the establishment of a chain of regimental co-operative military stores at the cantonment under the direction of the local committee on training camp activities.

The detailed plan of organization and operation of these stores, which will be eight in number, one being established for each regiment, was Wednesday announced by military men in charge.

The stores will be located near their respective regiments and will carry a complete line of tobaccos, candies, tooth brushes and paste, shaving articles, military accessories and other articles of a like nature.

Each store will be kept by a civilian who has had experience along lines of mercantile business and bookkeeping, and he will be paid a good salary. Acting as an auditor and general director of operations for the store of his regiment will be a lieutenant from each company, and in charge of the entire chain of stores will be a division exchange officer, a captain attached to the personal staff of General Swift.

In this way the work of each man will be checked up by superiors and a great degree of efficiency will be insured. The profits of the stores will be devoted to the improvement of regimental messes and the co-operative feature of the stores will be carried out in a manner most beneficial to all men concerned.

The services of eight reliable men to act as storekeepers together with a large number of clerks is in demand at the cantonment. These men will be paid good salaries for their work.

TWO ATLANTA BOYS WRITE TO PARENTS OF TRIP TO FRANCE

The many Atlanta friends of Warren W. Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ray, 400 Luckie street, and Hugh Nance, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nance, will be glad to learn that they have landed safely "somewhere in France."

Mr. Ray, who was a fireman on the Atlanta and West Point railroad, enlisted some time ago and was sent to France with one of the United States expeditionary forces. His parents received a letter from him Wednesday saying that he had landed in France and was happy and well.

"Don't forget to send me the Atlanta papers," wrote Mr. Ray, "so that I can keep in touch with what is going on back home."

Mrs. J. R. Nance Wednesday received an interesting letter from her son, Hugh Q. Nance, who is now in France with the American expeditionary forces.

The envelope bears the United States army stamp, the stamp of a British battleship on which it was probably mailed, and the approval of the government news censor.

An interesting feature of the inclosure is that the lines on which were written the date and the place from which the letter was mailed have been neatly clipped out presumably by the censor. The letter is brief and to the point. It is as follows:

Dear Mother: Arrived safely and was not sick to amount to anything. I have seen lots of interesting things, but will have to wait until I get back to tell you of them. I hope that you are well and enjoying life. Please write and tell me how you all are. I will write as often as I can, but you must not feel uneasy if you don't hear when you think you should.

Your loving son,
HUGH Q. NANCE.

Mrs. Agnes Watson Lee, Daughter of T. E. Watson, Passes Away at Thomson

Thomson, Ga., August 29.—(Special.) Mrs. O. S. Lee was claimed by death Wednesday morning at her home here after an illness of about a month. Mrs. Lee was reported as near death some weeks ago, but hopes had been entertained for her recovery. She was brought home Saturday in a special car and attended by physicians and nurses after undergoing an operation and treatment in an Atlanta sanitarium. Many friends here and elsewhere will learn of Mrs. Lee's death with deep regret.

Mrs. Lee was 35 years old, and the only daughter of Editor and Mrs. Thomas E. Watson. Her marriage to O. S. Lee occurred about twelve years ago and he survives her with one daughter, little Miss Georgia Lee. She is survived by a brother, J. D. Watson, and her parents, all of Thomson.

Owing to this death The Jeffersonian Publishing company will suspend business for practically all of this week, and there will be no issue of The Weekly Jeffersonian this week.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at the Thomson cemetery, hour to be announced later.

ACCOUNTING POSTPONED IN RUCKER ESTATE CASE

Frank A. Powell, the Atlanta Trust company, and several legatees of the will of Mrs. Mary Rucker were temporarily restrained Wednesday from further prosecuting their petition before the ordinary calling for a final accounting from Charles D. McKinney, administrator of Mrs. Rucker's estate, which was estimated at the time of her death at about $300,000.

The petition for a final accounting has been pending before the ordinary for some time. Charles D. McKinney has filed a bill in equity in superior court praying for an injunction restraining the legatees from prosecuting this application for an accounting until certain matters have been settled by the court, among them being the allowance of an attorney's fee to Green, Tilson & McKinney for representing the administrator. The attorney's fee asked amounts to about $8,000. Attorneys representing the legatees contended before the ordinary on a former application for attorney's fee in that court that an administrator could not employ himself as attorney. Mr. McKinney is a member of the firm of Green, Tilson & McKinney.

The temporary injunction was granted by Judge George L. Bell, who set the bill down for hearing on September 8.

TWO NEGROES ARE HELD UNDER PROHIBITION LAW

C. A. Curry, the negro who was arrested at the Terminal station by Officers Davis and Morgan, charged with trying to smuggle a quantity of whisky out of the station in a government mail bag, was yesterday arraigned before Recorder Johnson, who bound him over under a bond of $100. It is claimed that the negro was employed to look after the mail sacks, and soon after the trial a government warrant was issued for his arrest.

John Bailey, another negro, who owns a store at 317 Peters street, where, it is claimed, a quantity of liquor was found by police Wednesday morning, was also bound over by the recorder under a bond of $500.

MRS. PARHAM WAS DELIGHTED

It Cost Her Just Half to Come to Atlanta to Have Her Dental Work Done.

Last January Mrs. Fannie L. Parham, of Odessadale, Ga., had some dental work done by the One Price Dental Office, 104½ Whitehall street, corner Mitchell, Atlanta. And it cost her $18. She afterwards found out that the same job if it had been done by a dentist near her home would have cost her at least twice as much. Furthermore, she is positively delighted with the high quality of the work given her by the One Price Dental Office. Mrs. Parham is one of a large army of persons in Georgia who have found that it pays to come from their home towns to the One Price Dental Office when their teeth need attention. Best gold crowns, $3; bridge work, $3 per tooth; finest set of teeth money can buy, $5. All work guaranteed ten years. Prices always the same. Write to the One Price Dental Office and make an appointment or ask for any further information you wish.—(adv.)

Circuses Are Barred From Piedmont Park, Rules Park Board

There'll be no circus at Piedmont park so far as the park board is concerned, for this board takes the position that it has taken years of work and thousands of dollars of money to beautify this park and that it would be poor policy to expose it to the injury incident to circus performances.

Two circuses are coming to Atlanta this fall, and they are attempting to secure Piedmont park, since the Jackson street show grounds will be taken up by W. A. Sunday's tabernacle, which is being built for his use in November.

Marriage of Miss Victor And Mr. Levy of Augusta

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Victor announce the marriage of their daughter, Jeannette, to Mr. I. Clarence Levy, lieutenant First Georgia infantry, of Augusta, which took place last night at home.

The wedding, while a quiet event, assembling only the families of the bride and groom, was marked by beauty and elegance of detail.

Miss Helen Kohn, of Columbia, S. C., was maid of honor. Dr. M. S. Levy, of Augusta, the groom's brother, was best man, and Miss Sara Ella Schlesinger, flower girl. Rabbi David Marx performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a graceful wedding gown of white chiffon beaded in pearls, and the wedding veil was that of the groom's godmother, Mrs. Max Robinson, of Martinsburg, W. Va. Her bouquet was of bride roses and valley lillies.

The maid of honor wore orchid silk and silver and carried an arm bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. Victor, the bride's mother, wore a handsome costume of silver charmeuse and chiffon beaded in steel. Mrs. J. W. Levy, of Augusta, the groom's mother, wore black lace over silver.

Palms and the late summer flowers were used with artistic taste in the decoration of the house, and after a wedding repast, Mr. and Mrs. Levy went to North Carolina for their honeymoon.

The marriage will hold a wide interest for Atlanta and Augusta people, since Mr. and Mrs. Levy are both prominent.

The bride is one of the most beautiful young women in Atlanta, a graduate of Agnes Scott college in 1916. She was president of the college dramatic club, while her "Puck" was one of the noteworthy features of the Shakespearean pageant conducted by the Drama league. She made her M. A. degree at Columbia university in June of this year.

Mr. Levy is one of Augusta's leading citizens in business and civic affairs. He is a Rotarian, and has been president of the chamber of commerce and of Augusta's Carnival week. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia and a member of the Sphinx.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Levy and Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Levy, of Augusta; Mrs. Max Robinson, of Martinsburg, W. Va.; Miss Helen Kohn and Mr. August Kohn, of Columbia, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Utitz, of New York.

On Eve of Departure To Cantonment Greek Gives Farewell Dinner

"I am a fighter and not a speaker," was the gist of the few remarks made by Charlie Vacaills, Atlanta's popular young Greek, who recently sold out his $10,000 interest in the Partridge cafe, near the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, preparatory to heading the first contingent of the city to report to Camp Gordon, when he was called on last night to speak to his guests assembled at a farewell dinner at his cafe.

"When I came to Atlanta, three years ago," he added, "I had only $65 in my pockets. I have made money and prospered, but I am ready to give up all I have to fight for my adopted homeland. I am proud to head Atlanta's list and I will be there to the end."

The cafe was decorated in the national colors, with flags of the allied nations conspicuously displayed on the tables. A large orchestra provided patriotic music for the occasion.

Over 500 friends of the popular Greek dropped in to the cafe between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock, and were served with the following menu:

Spiced Tenderloin a la Pershing Combination Vegetables Democratic
Liberty Salad, Kerensky Style
Iced Tea a la Camp Gordon
U. S. Ice Cream
Joffre Cigars.

It is understood that the young Greek will be called to Camp Gordon next Wednesday and it is probable that he will be the first Georgia "rookie" of the draft army to set foot on cantonment soil.

Country Club Dinner-Dance For Distinguished Guests

The Capital City Country club announces a dinner-dance on Monday evening, September 3, in honor of Major General Eben Swift and his staff, with their wives.

The occasion will be made one of beauty, in keeping with its distinction.

A special orchestra will provide the music, and a cabaret performance of high class will be staged, the spacious ballroom to be the scene of the entertainment.

Major General Eben Swift, his aides, and other commanding officers at Camp Gordon will be honorees at a dinner which will be tendered them by the president and directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Friday night, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Piedmont Driving club.

The affair will be a formal one, and about fifty of Atlanta's most prominent men will be the guests of the chamber. The dinner has been arranged as a compliment to Major Swift and the other officers, so that Atlanta men will have an opportunity of knowing this coterie of officers who will be here for an indefinite stay in connection with the cantonment.

All of the guests will be seated at one round table. The table decorations, favors and general color scheme will blend the red, white and blue of America with the color insignia of the allies of the United States in the war.

Ivan E. Allen, president of the chamber of commerce, will preside. The usual toast to the president of the United States will be given.

Besides Major Swift, the following officers of Camp Gordon have accepted the invitation of the chamber of commerce and will attend the dinner: Brigadier General James B. Erwin, Brigadier General William P. Burnham, Brigadier General Charles T. Mencher, Brigadier General Marcus D. Cronin, Lieutenant Colonel Preston Brown, Major J. N. Pease, Captain Carl F. ## Dr. Rosalie Morton to Speak To Women of Atlanta Today

Dr. Rosalie S. Morton, of New York city, who has just returned from a survey of the war hospitals in Europe, will speak to Atlanta women this morning at 11 o'clock in the Atlanta Woman's club. She speaks under the auspices of the Atlanta Red Cross Work Room, and to hear her all the women of Atlanta interested in war relief work are invited.

Dr. Morton is chairman of the war service committee of medical women, and chairman of women physicians of the general medical war board of the Council of National Defense. The theme of her address will be the work of women in war, and she will especially stress the need of trained nurses in the present world crisis. She will show the need of more nurses both at home and abroad.

Dr. Morton recently went to Europe to inspect war conditions in England, France and Macedonia. While on the Saloniki front she served in a French military hospital where patients were Serbians—officers and soldiers.

She will discuss her experiences in the military hospital, which has been staffed throughout by women, and known as the Scottish Women's hospital, though the women who are surgeons and physicians in it are from Canada, New Zealand and Australia and other parts of the British empire.

Dr. Morton will wear the uniform of the French physician, which she was authorized to wear by Roulte, chief of service, and Desante, chief of medical service, of the armies of the Orient, and decorations given her by the Serbian government in recognition of her distinguished services.

Atlanta will again be the center for all loan activities in the sixth district.

M. B. Wellborn, chairman of the Federal Reserve bank, will be active chairman of the general Liberty Loan committee; W. H. Toole, a director of the Federal Reserve bank, will have charge of the bond department; W. C. Wardlaw will direct the organization of all outside forces, and St. Elmo Massengale will supervise the advertising and publicity.

Ambulance Company Number 29 Mobilizes At Fort McPherson

In response to orders issued several days ago the members of ambulance company No. 29, under the direction of Captain Walpole Brewer, mobilized at Fort McPherson yesterday and were issued a part of their equipment.

The complete organization of the unit will be effected Thursday when uniforms and field equipment will be given the men, who will at once begin an intensive training period for the field. At that time the anti-typhus serum will also be administered.

There were no developments in the affairs of Company 20, under the direction of Captain Leo P. Daley, which is already mobilized and equipped with uniforms, and which is expected to be moved to Camp Gordon on September 5. Officials of the unit stated that the orders to that effect were purely tentative and that they might be revoked. Whether similar orders will be given Company 20 is not yet known.

CAMP GORDON POSITON DECLINED BY DR. ROY

Dr. Dunbar Roy, a prominent local physician, who was tendered the position as consultant in the nose, throat and ear examinations at Camp Gordon, with the rank of major, has declined this offer on account of accepting a similar position as examiner of candidates for training at the aviation school at Tech. He will make Emory university headquarters for giving the examination.

"Modern Mother Goose" Will Open This Morning At the Grand Theater

The big feature film, "Modern Mother Goose," which Loew's Grand theater has brought to Atlanta especially for the entertainment of the children, will have its first public showing at a children's matinee at Loew's Grand theater this morning at 10 o'clock. There will be morning matinees also at 10 o'clock Friday and Saturday.

The "Modern Mother Goose" film is not merely a "play for children," however. Behind the nursery rhymes, so woven together as to make a fantastic comedy which will appeal to all children, is a symbolism and an appeal—a stirring of the imagination, a subtle sermon on the sweetness and innocence of childhood, on the chivalry and strength of manhood, and on patriotism and love of country, as exemplified in the "oath of allegiance," of the kings, and in the splendid fight between the Giant and the powers of Gooseland.

The Giant testifies power. Mother Goose is the "protecting spirit" of childhood. Old King Cole is Pleasure governed by wisdom, while Mistress Mary is the "Good Angel," or conscience, which always speaks when danger threatens. The Old Witch is "remembrance." Forgetting puts the children in the dungeon of despair; but the Old Witch, who stays with them through the long night, brings them peace and sleep in the happy dreams of memory. The Four Kings are the "Noble Knights," who march forth to the defense of all children; and the Fiddlers Three, playing "Home, Sweet Home," melt the Giant's heart as music soothes the soul. He surrenders the huge key and is knighted "The Children's Friend," which should ever be strength.

Hot Weather Means Danger For Your Baby

When in the stifling, still summer days the thermometer crawls up to 90 degrees and the baby lies listless in his little hot bed, or tosses restlessly about, then is the time, above all others, for you to be careful with your baby's food.

When you cannot nurse your baby any longer he must have milk in some form. Give him the food that is always safe, winter and summer:

Nestlé's Food

(A Complete Milk Food—Not a Milk Modifier)

You mothers—who are reading this—you know that cows' milk is no substitute for mother's milk. Even when you think that there are no germs in the milk it is hard to digest because of the hard, white, rubber-like curd.

But there is much that is good in milk—much that your baby needs. So in Nestlé's Food we take the pure milk of healthy cows and modify and change it so that it is the nearest thing to mother's milk. It is reduced to a dry powder and is put in air-tight cans. It can't sour or spoil.

All you do is to add a little cold water and boil. It is simple for you, and right for your baby.

So, in these hot summer days, when summer diarrhoea takes thousands of babies each year from mothers' arms, keep your baby safe on Nestlé's Food.

Send this coupon for a package of twelve feedings, so that you can keep your baby safe in the hot weather. Send the coupon also for the big, free 96 page book by baby specialists telling you how to take care of your baby—and answering a thousand puzzling questions.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—(adv.)

Ugh! Calomel Sickens; Salivates! Please Try Dodson's Liver Tone

I am sincere! My medicine does not upset liver and bowels so you lose a day's work.

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick; you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful, full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

G. A. RATHER INJURED BY AUTO WEDNESDAY

Elbert Crozier, Driver of the Car, Held by the Police Without Bond.

The most recent of an alarming number of automobile accidents which have occurred in Atlanta in the past month and which have taken the lives of a dozen or more people, occurred shortly before noon yesterday, when G. A. Rather, 25 years old, a decorator of the Browne Decorating company, was run down and knocked unconscious by a big touring car driven by Elbert Crozier, aged 21, of Chattanooga, on Ponce de Leon avenue, near the Briarcliff road.

Mr. Rather was picked up by the driver of the car and rushed to Grady hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from internal injuries of a serious nature. Physicians there, however, state that there is hope for his recovery.

According to witnesses, Mr. Rather was going around the rear of the car from which he had just alighted when he was struck by the automobile.

Crozier is being held at police station without bond on a charge of violating the city's traffic ordinance, it being claimed that he tried to pass the car on the left side. Accompanying him in the car were George Mclsaacs and William McAllister, of Chattanooga. They were going to Columbia, South Carolina.

A report of the management of Grady hospital made soon after the accident, to the board of trustees, showed that the hospital death rate for the past month has reached its maximum in the history of the city, and the numerous automobile accidents are undoubtedly largely responsible for the increase. The normal death rate is about 6 per cent, but this month it reached the record of 9.1 per cent.

Full Attendance Present at Meeting of Committee Held Wednesday.

The committee appointed by the citizens' meeting for the purpose of getting relief against the guano factories at Armour Station held an interesting meeting Wednesday evening, at which there was a full attendance.

Attention was called to the card of E. F. Daniels, Jr., and the interview of General Clifford Anderson in an afternoon paper, and considerable discussion followed.

It was the unanimous belief of the committee, as expressed by a number of speakers, that the courts, officials and public generally in and around Atlanta will not allow two or three powerful, rich, foreign corporations to run over the citizens and residents of this county and injure their property with foul and unhealthy odors and fumes without giving them relief.

The committee also wishes to call attention to the fact that these guano concerns do not make any purchases in Atlanta. They buy their raw material and all their supplies somewhere else, it is stated, and they do not employ any high-price men except the superintendents, who write cards. Their employees are made up of negroes who, it was stated, ought to be fumigated before they are allowed to ride on the street cars.

Have Not Legal Rights.

Lawyers advise that it makes no difference who came there first, no property owner has the right to invade the premises of another with fumes and odors.

Attention was also called to the fact that there are residences and homes in this vicinity that were built long before ground was ever broken for any of these factories, and these and the other residents claim a right to be allowed to live in their homes without being subjected to these acid fumes and offensive odors.

Mr. Daniels, the manager of the proposed new plant, which is to use fish scrap, stated to Mr. Haverty and to Mr. Hope, two of the committee, who went to him to make the protest about moving his plant from East Point to Armour, that this fish scrap, when the wind was in the right direction, could be smelled for fifteen miles.

The committee has been informed, it is stated, that when this plant was prevented by East Point in its effort to handle this fish scrap, this concern, knowing that the use of this fish scrap and the factory constitute a nuisance, proceeded to buy this land by deception, misleading the owners by stating to them that it was to be used for a warehouse and not as a fertilizer factory.

The property owners claim that this whole situation is an unmitigated nuisance, and cannot stand the test of the laws. They hold that no concern of this kind has a right to destroy the property, peace and enjoyment of a whole countryside.

The committee announces that it is going after them, and that they are going to keep after them, and they might as well recognize now that these nuisances must stop.

Incorporation Opposed.

Resolutions opposing the proposed Incorporation of "that part of Fulton county known as Buckhead" were passed at a meeting of property owners in that vicinity, held last night at Donaldson's hall.

It was set forth by speakers that Buckhead was well lighted, had ample police protection, and was well cared for in a sanitary way, and that there is no necessity for incorporation.

M. L. Thrower was elected chairman of the meeting and W. C. Munday secretary. A committee to work against incorporation was named as follows: George P. Donaldson, Dr. H. F. Scott, J. S. Donaldson, W. S. Pharr, Dr. E. Anthony, G. W. Moor, T. J. Dumas, Ab Walters, W. O. Peavy, G. F. Coleman and W. S. Rea.

The resolutions passed are as follows:

Whereas, there has been for several days a movement to incorporate that part of Fulton county known as 'Buckhead by some of the citizens residing in said vicinity; and,

Whereas, a meeting was called in said vicinity to meet at Donaldson's Hall for the purpose of the inhabitants of said vicinity and the territory for which a town corporation is to be applied for to the superior court of Fulton county; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the citizens of the vicinity for which a town charter is to be applied for to the superior court of Fulton county, in mass meeting regularly called for the purpose of discussing the advisability of said proposed incorporation, do hereby protest against said incorporation, and respectfully request that the superior court of Fulton county do not grant a charter for the incorporation of said vicinity.

RECRUITING WAS FINE IN ATLANTA WEDNESDAY

"Recruiting was fine," was the unanimous reply of recruiting officials at all Atlanta stations yesterday when questioned in regard to progress made by their different departments during the day. # RENTING AGENTS WILL HELP SECURE ROOMS

Position of Real Estate Men Shown by R. R. Otis and A. S. Adams.

R. R. Otis, president, and A. S. Adams, chairman of the Atlanta Real Estate board, have written to The Constitution the following version of the appearance of representatives of the board before the public safety committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon, when the matter of furnishing a clerk and an office for the social service committee in its work in obtaining rooms for soldiers and their families was taken up:

Editor Constitution—Dear Sir: We wish to call your attention to an article appearing in this morning's paper, in which certain statements in regard to the Atlanta Real Estate board were made, that were entirely erroneous and do the members of the board a great injustice.

The article attributes statements to Mrs. W. H. Kiser, of the Social Service committee, that were never made by her at the meeting that this article reports.

The renting agents who were present at this meeting agreed to co-operate with the Public Safety committee and Mrs. Kiser's committee in every way possible in their efforts to help the army officers who are coming to Atlanta to secure places to live.

The renting agents agreed to furnish Mrs. Kiser's committee with a list of all apartment houses, with a list of all rooms that they might hear of, to furnish automobiles to her committee to show rooms with in cases of emergency, and a statement was made by all of the agents that while the business was not profitable from a monetary standpoint, that they felt very keenly for these officers in their troubles in finding suitable places to live, and had been giving a great deal of time to it and would continue to do so.

Mrs. Kiser's committee has never made any request of the Real Estate board for any money, nor was there any reason why the real estate men should contribute money when the Public Safety committee has a fund raised for just such purposes.

The only thing the real estate men did not agree to was a proposition by a member of the Public Safety committee in regard to renting rooms in private houses, which was explained by the real estate men as not being a practicable plan, and could be handled much better by the ladies' committee.

Mrs. Kiser did state that she had made an engagement with Mr. Otis, but Mr. Otis had not kept same, and Mr. Otis explained that the engagement had not been kept, due to a misunderstanding in the time for the engagement.

As far as any statements that we heard were made, they are entirely at variance with the report published in your paper, and we feel sure that all of the above will be borne out by the members of the Public Safety committee and the other parties who were present at this meeting.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT R. OTIS, President.
A. S. ADAMS, Chairman.

Lemons Do Whiten! Try This on Face, Neck, Arms, Hands

The lemon juice massage indulged in once or twice each day means a little time and trouble, girls, but what of the splendid results! A skin bleached beautifully white, a complexion with the bloom of a peach, a softening of those lines of care; in fact, a skin eloquent of nature's purity and hands white, soft and full of charm.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When massaged daily into the face, neck, arms and hands it should naturally help to whiten, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

USE OF THE ROD URGED.

Must Whip Children or Face Court, Mothers Are Told.

Judge Hathcock, of the municipal court, is a firm believer in the efficacy of the proper use of the rod. He thinks it's a good thing for kiddies who don't behave, and he threatened to put two mothers under bond to keep the peace unless they use the straps more freely.

Mrs. W. P. McLain, of 16 Lakeview avenue, was before Judge Hathcock to answer the charge of Mrs. Lamont Myers, of 28 Lakeview street, that Mrs. McLain gave frequent instructions to her children and her children's playmates to "clean up" the Myers youngsters. The "clean-up" was just getting started when Mrs. Myers hied her to the police station for a warrant.

"You mothers ought to spank your own children and not let others do it," said Judge Hathcock. "Seems to me that nowadays there's not enough of the 'home treatment' given boys who are mischievous. Don't let your boys scrap among themselves so much. Just you all get busy and spank them good and often, when they deserve it.

"See if you two mothers can't get together peacefully. And if there should come any complaints from either, I'll hold both of you in bonds to keep the peace. Use your strap or your rod—which ever you have—and you'll have less trouble with youngsters. If you don't, I'll take a hand myself."

The case was dismissed.

AVOID FOOD POISON

Keep the Liver Active and Stomach Clean.

Food Poison is produced through fermentation in the bowels of undigested food which has not been properly assimilated, and therefore not digested and purified through the action of the liver. This undigested food collects in the bowels and glands of the body and generates poisons which produce Rheumatism, Headache, Mental Dullness, Fatigue, Lassitude, Jaundice, Sallowness.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT is needed, and needed BADLY, a teaspoonful before breakfast will stimulate the liver, flush the alimentary canal, relieve the bowels of the putrefied mass of undigested food and refresh the entire system, at once, making a complete change in the condition of the man or woman who acts in time. But prompt action is imperative, otherwise the poisons will have been distributed. Consequently, it is advisable to take Jacobs' Liver Salt promptly when a deranged Liver gives warning. At druggists everywhere or sent direct for 35 and 75 cents. Jacobs' Pharmacy, Atlanta.—(adv.)

COMING SLOWLY BUT SURELY!

As things always do when men of right motives and reason get their heads together and work in the light of reason to a common purpose, matters pertaining to the transportation facilities between Atlanta and Camp Gordon seem to be coming out all right.

Slowly, to be sure, but surely, the solution to the problem is coming.

And every one of the different phases of it apparently is being satisfactorily developed.

Of paramount gratification is the decision on the part of the trolley company to sanction the laying of a double track clear through to the cantonment.

The Southern railway must now follow and meet its obligation to the public—otherwise there will be no track service to the cantonment until October 15.

This is unthinkable.

While even these two traffic services will prove inadequate to meet the certain demands, in installing them the two companies will have done the best within their power at this time.

At any rate, when the Southern railway does its duty, as the trolley company has done, we will have assurances of a vast improvement over the deplorable conditions that would have existed had only original plans been carried out!

Vehicular service will, we are now assured, be further facilitated by the paving of Peachtree Road from the DeKalb county line to the cantonment—a needed improvement which also has been made possible only by men's civic pride and inherent desire to be fair and reasonable.

Altogether things are working out well; and, while all of these things should have been attended to weeks, or months, ago, the people of Atlanta and those who are to be stationed at or in the vicinage of Camp Gordon while the recruits are in training have every reason to congratulate themselves over the developments of the last few days.

THE NEGROES IN CAMP.

It seems to be settled that a small percentage of the negro troops recruited in this and adjoining states are to be stationed for training at Camp Gordon; but there will be not nearly so many of them as was originally thought there would be.

It is fortunate, indeed, for the city of Atlanta and for the country that the major general and the brigadier generals in command at the cantonment are men who know how to deal with this problem. They are stern disciplinarians, most of them southern men, and with their proven abilities and their past experience, these officers can be depended upon to protect the peace.

While, of course, the official report on the Houston affair is not yet in, it seems settled beyond all doubt that one of the causes of the seriousness of the Houston riot was that a spineless officer was in immediate command of the negro troops. Corroborative testimony shows that this officer was expecting trouble several days before it occurred, and in plenty of time to nip it in the bud had he had the proper courage and gumption. There is evidence to show that he even warned a police officer against going into the negro camp, and stated that he himself would be unwilling to do it.

The Constitution is merely repeating this testimony for what it is worth. If it develops that it is correct the war department should make an example of the man or men responsible for such incompetent military administration.

Sam Small, in a communication appearing elsewhere upon this page, shows what an officer with backbone did under similar circumstances and conditions as those attending the Houston affair; and, second, how that officer was backed up by the president of the United States—William McKinley.

This government is, of course, not going to permit mutiny and rebellion within the ranks of its soldiers; and the sooner that fact is established, and established in such a way as to circumvent a repetition of the Houston disgrace, the better it will be for all concerned.

For that reason the outcome of the investigation into the Houston riot, and the punishment decided upon for those who had to do with it, will be watched for with interest by the whole country.

As to the situation at Camp Gordon, with such men as are there and will be in control, Atlanta has every reason to feel secure.

Out at Camp Gordon will be only negroes recruited from this vicinity.

They will, in other words, be at home. To that extent there is an element entering into the Camp Gordon situation which did not enter into that at Houston.

The first thing necessary, and that all must understand, is that all must be just to the negro recruits. Police and citizens alike must treat them justly.

With firm men and experienced disciplinarians in charge, the situation will be kept well in hand and no trouble will be experienced.

And the negroes themselves must feel that they are on trial today as never before in history. If they make good their covenant with their government they will deserve and receive credit. If they do not, they will bring opprobrium on their whole race.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace proposal is a message that will ring round the world, and it is a state paper that will live as a classic document as long as democracy endures.

It is typically Wilsonian in diction and phraseology, but it even surpasses in power of logic and reasoning anything that the president has ever said or written upon the issues in the war or the doctrine of liberty and popular freedom. Each sentence in it hits home like a pile-driver, and every paragraph is intended to put to shame the Prussian kaiser, as well as those Americans who are playing into his hand and to his end by repeating the foolish query, "What are we fighting for?"

There is throughout the paper, from beginning to end, an expression of sentiment which must cheer humanity and give it hope for a brighter day that is coming and inspire confidence that such a day is about to dawn. It should appeal alike to the well-meaning German people—the very victims of the system so scathingly attacked—and to the liberty-loving peoples of all the world. And at the same time it will imbue renewed confidence in the country's enterprises on the part of all Americans, and bring to their hearts renewed conviction that we are fighting for something that is really worth the sacrifice we are making and must make.

It is the greatest document that ever came from Woodrow Wilson's pen.

HOME AT THE FRONT.

The boys who are to do the fighting—America's share of it—on the fields of France will take home with them when they go the love of home and memories to make the midnight of the trenches bright—with the light of home.

And it should—it will—be remembered at home that they will need, in greater measure then than ever, the home-hail—the word across the waters, from the heart of home.

Even letters to unknown foreign soldiers—greetings from America to the fighters of the French front—carrying messages of hope and sympathy, have been solicited, and have helped to cheer the men in the loneliness of the battle-pits.

As to our own soldier-boys, "somewhere in France"—in that strange, new country—"first aid" will come from home, and it will be the frequent, cheering word; and, as The New York Mail points out, "home" does not mean only the family fireside—

> It means everyone and every place linked with the past. It means the playmates of school days, the friends of later years—the boys and girls, men and women, whose names and deeds crowd the memory of other years, and, in a setting of new and strange surroundings, sink deep into the heart as life's most precious assets.
>
> War's serious side is not always facing the enemy's guns. Its tragedies are not alone the wounds of bayonet and bullet. Those of forgetfulness go just as deep. Out there in No Man's Land, where human life is held so cheaply, there can be no feeling quite so heart-breaking as the feeling that you are forgotten at home or among those with whom you have spent your years. Just a line of familiar handwriting—how much it means to you! Just a word about the other boys left behind—what they are doing and saying and planning. There is no tonic quite so bracing, no emotion quite so thrilling, as the first handling of a letter "from home."

The songs of greatest appeal to the soldier have ever been those with the home-thought in them—simple, to the limit of simplicity, but heart-reaching as messages from home.

> "We're tenting tonight on the old camp-ground,
> Give us a song to cheer;
> A song of home . . . .
> And the friends we hold so dear.

That's what the boys of the old days wanted—the boys of the old wars; and those of the new, leaving the lights and shadows of the same home-places, feel the same need.

Let the word across the waters take in all of home!

JUST from GEORGIA

By Frank L. Stanton

"Somewhere in Georgia."
(A Mountain Mystery-Song.)

I.

Shadder of a mountain, where the world grows wild,
"Somewhere in Georgia."
"Lookout" to halt you, but you mustn't git riled,
"Somewhere in Georgia."
Rocky stream a-runnin' past the old dead pine—
New Moon knows it, but the sun's 'fraid to shine!
Stranger in the settlement, you better know "The Sign,"
"Somewhere in Georgia!"

II.

Don't be feelin' skeery when you see a rabbit jump
"Somewhere in Georgia!"
"Somethin's" waitin' yonder, in the holler of a stump,
"Somewhere in Georgia!"
When the big sun is a-risin', or he's fixin' for to set,
That's the time for "seekers"—if you wouldn't lose yer bet;
"Dry" fer them that wants, but it's still amazin' "wet"
"Somewhere in Georgia!"

Romance of the Censor.

The Peabody Gazette says that a girl there, writing to her sweetheart, in France, inquired in her last letter:

"What kind of a man is the censor who reads all my letters and your letters to me and signs his name 'Opened by censor?'" The censor added a footnote in her sweetheart's last letter, describing himself and now the girl doesn't know whether she is in love with the censor or her old sweetheart.

ROOMS AND BOARD ARE BADLY NEEDED BY ARMY PEOPLE

Rooms and board are needed for the many army people brought here by the opening of Camp Gordon.

Mrs. William H. Kiser and Mrs. W. G. Bryan, chairmen of the social service committee of the Atlanta branch National League for Woman's Service, were in their office, 172½ Peachtree street, early yesterday morning meeting with the many applicants there for rooms and board from among the new colony of people which the Camp Gordon cantonment brings to the city.

"You can say that we find there is much demand for both rooms and board," said Mrs. Kiser when interviewed yesterday.

"Whereas there are many who desire rooms only in the more central residential parts of the city, there are many who desire to get board, if possible, under the same roof. I feel quite sure that when it reaches the ears of hospitable Atlantans and they realize the call for rooms is just another patriotic call, they will remember the unused rooms in the house, for there are many of Atlanta's most attractive homes who have one or more vacant rooms.

"The members of the directing board of the Atlanta Real Estate association have offered members of our committee the use of cars to further the work of our committee; Mr. Mel Wilkinson and members of the public safety committee are co-operating with us in our work, also members of the War Council of the Young Woman's Christian association, the Travelers' Aid association and many individuals appreciative of the great responsibility there is in placing comfortably and acceptably the many strangers within the gate who have come with the opening of the Camp Gordon cantonment."

All those who have rooms to lease or rooms and board are urged to communicate with the National League for Woman's service, 172½ Peachtree street.

BENEFITS TO THE CITY OF HAVING CAMP GORDON AT ITS DOORS SAVED BY WARNING NOTE OF CONSTITUTION

The warning note on the seriousness of the transportation situation between Camp Gordon and Atlanta, as first sounded in The Constitution's leading editorial of Thursday, August 16, has resulted in the assurance of transportation facilities between the cantonment and the city, which will probably not be surpassed at any other cantonment site in the country, provided, of course, the Southern railway now does its part, as the trolley company has agreed to do.

The announcement by the Georgia Railway and Power company yesterday that it would proceed immediately with the construction of a double track trolley to the camp marked the biggest success of the campaign waged as the result of The Constitution's first warning note. In addition to this, it has resulted in the determination to widen that part of Peachtree road lying in DeKalb county, and also in the agreement of the Southern railroad to operate shuttle trains between the camp and the city after October 15—leaving a month and a half without any track transportation between the city and the cantonment.

The first call to the citizens of the city and its civic organizations, to wake up to a realization of the seriousness of the situation was in the following editorial appearing in The Constitution on August 16:

SOMEBODY IS ASLEEP.

(Editorial of The Constitution of August 16, 1917.)

It will not be long now—about three weeks—before Camp Gordon, out near Silver Lake, will be a city of approximately 50,000 inhabitants, inclusive of the army cantonment and those having business connections therewith and who must depend upon the cantonment-serving facilities for transportation incidental to their business between the city and the camp.

The only means of public passenger transportation between Atlanta, a city of 200,000, and this potential center of 50,000 inhabitants—a distance of about 12 miles—will, so far as plans have been made, consist in a single-track trolley line about half the way, and a double-track line the other half!

Which will be absolutely, utterly and distressfully inadequate to take care of the traffic that is bound to follow the opening of the cantonment!

It is altogether reasonable to presume that the traffic demands of the cantonment—considering the number of people who will be directly and personally interested in the camp—will equal that of a city of at least 100,000 population.

Yet, here we are within three weeks of the proposed opening of the cantonment, with a trolley line double-tracked for only one-half the distance between Atlanta and the camp, and without even a single-track line completed—but only contemplated—from Brookhaven on!

The Southern railway line connects Atlanta with Camp Gordon, but Vice President Miller says it has not taken up the matter of a regular passenger service between the city and the cantonment.

Somebody must be asleep on this important proposition!

Evidently, whoever is responsible has failed to sense the magnitude of it.

But it is a mighty serious question, and the situation will lead to all manner of inconvenience, if not worse, unless it is remedied without a day of unnecessary delay.

The conditions demand that two things be done: First, that the trolley line be double-tracked every foot of the way from Atlanta to Camp Gordon—a line which already is carrying peak traffic during certain hours of the day between Atlanta and its present terminus at Brookhaven—and, second, the Southern railway should put into effect a local passenger schedule between Atlanta and the cantonment as soon as the recruits are assembled.

Unless one or both of these things are done the opening of the cantonment will bring about a condition that will be mighty hard to deal with, and it will be accompanied by wholesale regrets.

Mark The Constitution's word for it—if something is not done, and done promptly, to relieve this situation all sorts of trouble is ahead for both city and cantonment.

How Brave General Wilson, Backed by President McKinley, Handled Disorderly Negroes

BY SAM W. SMALL.

About that negro soldier riot in Houston last week both the officials and the press have gone astray.

They have spoken of it as "unprecedented" and "having no parallel in army history."

But the same sort of affair almost identically, except as to fatalities and the wounded, happened at Macon, Ga., during the encampment of our troops there in the Spanish-American campaign.

The First army corps, commanded by Major General James H. Wilson, was encamped there preparing to go to Cuba. In the corps were included two negro regiments, the Third North Carolina and the Sixth Virginia.

These two regiments were put into a cantonment to themselves, out beyond Vineville, two miles from the nearest camp of white troops.

Some of the negro soldiers were arrested by the Macon police for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. When released to the provost guard and returned to camp they complained of brutal treatment by the policemen.

A gang of camp-trotting, dissolute negro women carried liquor into the camp that evening and egged on some drunken soldiers to "go down into Macon and clean out de white devils." The fury thus started spread through the camp and soon there were signs of mutiny. Guns were looked over and made ready for action and ammunition was taken from custody and distributed.

News of the threatened attack in the city was carried to headquarters and at midnight General Wilson was informed by Senator Bacon and others of the impending peril. Immediately General Wilson sent orders to Colonel Gaillard, commander of the Third United States Volunteer Engineers, of which I was chaplain, to call out the regiment and stop the threatened raid upon a sleeping city.

We were bugled to arms and the whole regiment double-quicked through the darkness to the camp of the negro troops, surrounded it and put the whole outfit under arrest. We disarmed both regiments and held them so in camp until General Wilson reported the situation fully to Washington with his recommendations.

In a day or so orders came from President McKinley, through the secretary of war, to dishonorably discharge both regiments and to send them thus disgraced back to their home states.

That was promptly done and these disgraced ex-soldiers were escorted to the cars to the tune of "The Rogue's March."

On the way home, with small arms smuggled to them, they fired upon men and women in the fields and on the public roads all the way through the Carolinas.

These are the only full regimental commands ever dishonorably mustered out en masse from the American forces from the Revolution down to the present day.

Curiously, it was Wednesday afternoon in his senate committee room that I detailed all the above to Senator Tillman, who had just returned from begging the secretary of war not to send negro regiments to the cantonment in Columbia. The senator had me dictate the facts to his stenographer and they were sent to Secretary Baker less than sixteen hours before the fatal outbreak occurred at Houston.

To those of us who have served in the army and who know the peculiar psychology that develops in the average negro when put into a United States army uniform and given a gun, it is always considered a highly hazardous adventure to quarter large units of negro troops in southern communities.

Our Fighting Men.

John A. Johnston.

Brigadier General John A. Johnston, who has returned to the army after fifteen years' retirement to assume command of the department of the northeast, with headquarters at Boston, was born in Pennsylvania and was graduated from West Point in 1875. Much of General Johnston's service prior to his resignation from the army in 1903 was spent in the adjutant general's department. He was in charge of and organized the inaugural parades of Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. In 1902 he accompanied Generals Corbin, Young and Wood to the German army maneuvers, as guests of the kaiser, and prepared the report of their observations.

Negro Minister Tells Why Negroes Should Remain Here

Editor Constitution: I delivered the annual sermon of the Atlanta district conference of the A. M. E. church in the city of Atlanta a few days ago. When the minutes were read the following morning, on motion to adopt, one of the preachers of the conference rose up and asked me why, in my sermon the day before, I advised the colored people to remain in the south. I told him I would answer this question through the columns of The Constitution.

I now reiterate my statements with emphasis, without fear of successful contradiction. Having traveled extensively through portions of Great Britain, Europe and Africa, and throughout the states, and having come in contact with different nations and races, I feel competent to advise my people for their best interest. I know that the south is the negro's best home, because he is better known and understood by the southern white people, who have grown up with him, and by many considered as one family.

The northern people do not know these intrinsic ties. The southern white people know the idiosyncracies of the uncultured negro and, with such sympathy, will make allowances for his shortcomings and defects.

I know that many of our race have been lynched, but let the negro strive to remove the cause leading up to this infraction of the law, as well as to condemn the act of lynching. Let the good, law-abiding negro separate himself from the criminal classes and seek to expose and apprehend such villains and turn them over to the proper officers of the law, and I am certain that not an innocent, respectable negro will be harmed; for the best white people of the south will stand by such persons and protect them at the cost of blood.

On the above lines I had a long talk with Chief Justice William H. Fish, of the supreme court of Georgia. In this conversation he said that he loved the colored people, and as judge he would always see that the colored man had a fair trial and received justice before his court, regardless of the standing or influence of the prosecutor.

When the negro learns to love well his God and the church, and will fill the day schools, colleges and industrial institutions with neat and clean boys and girls, keep his home from the criminals, lift high his moral standard, and as an employee be honest, truthful, respectful, punctual and trustworthy, neat in his person and in his home, then there will be no race friction and the southland will be the negro's paradise. No people on the globe will do more for a worthy negro than the southern white people.

Other sections of our country may offer and pay higher wages, but the negro will find himself in the atmosphere of extreme exactness; every "t" must be crossed and every "i" must be dotted, and every minute of lost time will be deducted from his daily stipend. No patience, sympathy or credit are allowed him. Spot cash decides his fate, and friendship dies in the absence of the cash. Here in the south the groceryman, every dry goods merchant, and every dealer in all the commodities the negro needs, gives him a chance to live, regardless of his circumstances.

Here the industrious negro can buy a home on easy terms; paying less than 50 cents per week for it. Here his black face does not bar him from working anywhere; skilled workmen and the common laborers have an equal chance in the meat and bread race. In other sections, these privileges are denied the colored man.

These are some of the reasons why I am advising the colored people to remain in the south, where sympathy and friendship flow in abundance toward the worthy negro. We know that some civic and political rights are denied the negro in the south, but when the negro, as a unit, qualifies himself, as a great number of our best men and women have done, the race will be accorded every right that is now enjoyed by the white race. To bring about this glorious epoch it will take time, patience, endurance, prayer and faith in God. When these things are observed, the change will be so great that, instead of leaving the south, the negro from other sections will be flocking to the south for better opportunities and true friendship.

An old colored Georgian, pastor St. Peter A. M. E. church, and president of the Law and Order league.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

SKIN TROUBLES FROM DRUGS.

Acetanilide, the blood-destroying, heart-depressing, pain-killing ingredient of hundreds of alleged "cures" and "remedies," frequently causes blueness of the lips, nails or entire skin surface. This is due to a grave change produced in the red blood cells. But the drug sometimes causes an erythema, an itchy redness or mottling of the skin, or perhaps just a pruritis, that is, obstinate itching without visible skin disturbance.

Aspirin sometimes produces a hive-like eruption.

Bromides, present in countless alleged "nerve tonics" and epilepsy remedies, often cause acne pimples or other more alarming skin lesions.

Iodide of potash, in various concoctions masquerading as "blood purifiers"—whatever purifying the blood means—usually produce some sort of skin rash if taken for a considerable time without interruption. To imagine that the rash indicates "impurities working out" is a ridiculous confession of credulity.

Iodoform, used even at this late day by some conservative old surgeons who like the smell, is a famous cause of skin irritation, both in the vicinity of the dressing and over the body surface at a distance.

Quinine sometimes causes a rash closely resembling that of scarlet fever. Quinine is a much abused drug. Outside of its use as a specific for true malaria, there is practically no reason to employ it, and especially so in the treatment of coryza or so-called "colds."

Salicylic acid or salicylates sometimes produce erythema or perhaps hives.

Veronal occasionally causes a peculiar puffiness of face and hands.

Calcium sulphide is likely to cause a skin rash accompanying the disagreeable odor about one who is so credulous as to swallow this drug to "clear the complexion."

Even castor oils will occasionally produce a popular or fine pimply rash, but then, castor oil is very rarely called for in human practice—it is excellent for sick animals, the veterinarians tell us.

Drug eruptions are very confusing to the victim and often misleading to the physician, especially if he is not aware of the nature of the dope the victim has been experimenting with before consulting him. The instances mentioned above are but a few of the more frequently noted ones. There are a great many other medicinal agents which may cause skin eruptions of various kinds.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Old Castor Oil Again.

You once commended some small boy's protest against castor oil. What can we give children in its stead when every few weeks or months they have regular attacks of sick stomach, headache, high fever, etc., lasting two or three days and worse at night? (Mrs. R. F.)

ANSWER—Castor oil would be positively cruel to inflict upon children so indisposed. Usually such attacks have a large element of acid-intoxication, if they are not actually due to acidosis. Alkalies are therefore needed. One excellent remedy is half a glassful of cold water in which is dissolved a level teaspoonful of soda. As a laxative give a tablespoonful of milk of magnesia, mixed with ice cream if necessary; the medicine has only a flat taste. Or give it in cold water. Another good remedy is a bottle of citrate of magnesia freshly prepared by the druggist, and administered very cold, in doses of a wine glassful or more every hour or two—an entire bottle (12 ounces—a glass and a half) of the citrate is only a moderate dose for an adult, and children require half the adult dose of physics. Meanwhile give no food, unless it be very small amounts of cereals without milk, or any fresh fruit or fruit juices, or a small amount of fresh vegetable soup.

Let the Babies Cool Off.

Is it necessary to keep on a baby's woolen binder, undershirt and stockings through the summer months? He seems to be too warm, but a nurse told me it is dangerous to take them off until he is three years old. (Mrs. D. M.)

ANSWER—Must have been a borned nurse, not a trained nurse. By all means take off the binder at least. On hot days take off the stockings and the undershirt and let the baby enjoy a few brief hours of comfort. Babies suffer more from the heat than adults do. Not only undress the baby, but give him a nice cooling tepid bath morning and afternoon, and powder him well and let him smile a while.

Hebetude After Stuffing.

No matter how I apply myself I get very drowsy for three or four hours after eating a good meal. How can I prevent this? I am thirty-four, and have always had fair health. My work is sedentary and requires mental alertness, that is why I want to overcome the trouble. (S. A. H.)

ANSWER—Let that good meal be a vegetarian one, and take six somersaults night and morning and two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day.

LITTLE LOCALS ABOUT THINGS OF CITY INTEREST

Upon the petition of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company Judge Pendleton Tuesday granted a temporary injunction restraining the state railroad commission from enforcing its ruling requiring the railroad to construct a spur track at Ball Ground, Ga., wherethe Roberts Marble company is located. The railroad contends that the commission has no authority to enforce such construction. The petition was set for hearing September 22.

The interstate singing convention of the James L. White Sacred Harp will meet at the Red Men's Wigwam, Central avenue, beginning at 9 o'clock Saturday, September 1, and continuing through Sunday. All are cordially invited to come and bring well-filled baskets.

The soldiers at Fort McPherson were highly entertained at the Army Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night with a concert given by some of the artists of Atlanta under the direction of A. C. Boatman of the Tabernacle Baptist church. The hit of the evening was made when Miss Mattie Ellis, alto of the Second Baptist church, in her charming manner sang "Good-by, Germany," one of the latest war songs, written by Edwin McConnell, an Atlanta boy, member of the aviation corps stationed in California. Others taking part on the program were: Miss Parks, soprano soloist; Miss Earl Carter, reader; Mr. John Hoffman, baritone soloist; Messrs. Maurer, Boatman, Hoffman and Hubbard, quartet; Mrs. Boatman, accompanist.

REGULATION GUN DRILL GIVEN BY BATTERY B

Squad of Artillerymen Unlimber Guns for Action Before Hundreds of Spectators.

With telescopes and range-finders stationed on top of the Empire building to figure the ranges and angles to various targets in Atlanta, a gun squad of artillerymen from Battery B, Georgia Field artillery, unlimbered their gun for action Wednesday in front of the Grady monument on Marietta street, and went through the regulation gun drill before several hundred spectators.

The drill was held to stimulate interest in the recruiting campaign of the Georgia Field artillery, which has launched a big drive to fill up the ranks to war strength. Battery B, the Atlanta battery, now lacks only 25 men of having the maximum of 190 required. Battery A, of Savannah, already has 190 men, and Battery C, also of Savannah, has about 160. The field artillery recruiting station, at 26 Whitehall street, will be open only a day or two longer to receive enlistments.

Captain A. J. McBride, Jr., of Battery B, led the gun squad through Whitehall and Peachtree streets Wednesday morning when they arrived in the city from Fort McPherson. After depositing the cannon and its caisson (ammunition wagon) in front of the Grady monument, the drivers took the horses to the Armory on Courtland street, where they remained till the return to Fort McPherson in the afternoon. For about five hours the gun remained on Marietta street, during which time several drills were held under the command of Lieutenant J. W. LeCraw, of Battery B. The gun attracted a good deal of attention itself and hundreds of Atlantans examined it during the day. It is the 3-inch model of 1905, shoots shell or shrapnel 3 inches in diameter at ranges up to 4 or 5 miles, and is very similar to the famous "French 75," which is doing such tremendous work on the western front today. It is generally believed that the Georgia artillery will take its present guns for use in Europe whenever they are ordered across.

Three of Battery B's guns are taken apart at the present time and the cradles have been sent to the Augusta arsenal for repair. Captain McBride stated that as soon as the guns have been repaired and put together again he will probably bring the entire battery to Atlanta for a march through the city.

Temporary Highway to Camp Gordon

Capital City club. The Brookhaven road is followed to a point opposite the intersection of Peachtree and Candler roads, where a right turn is taken across Peachtree into Candler road, leading across Peachtree road through the Southern railway's underpass, and thence on to the southern entrance to Camp Gordon. It is expected that this new route will be ready for use within the next few days, and the way will be clear then for the improvement of the DeKalb county stretch of Peachtree road. The trolley line question has been settled and the property owners along the road have agreed to the widening of the road. Thus all obstacles which formerly stood in the way of Commissioner R. J. Freeman, of DeKalb county, proceeding with the work have been removed. It is now anticipated that the actual work of putting the road into first-class condition will be pushed with the utmost dispatch, so that it will be ready for traffic at the earliest possible moment.

OGLETHORPE UNIVERSITY PROSPECTS SATISFACTORY

In spite of the universal need of men, both in the army and in every department of industrial life, matriculations and applications have been so numerous at Oglethorpe university as to guarantee another brilliant year's patronage when the institution opens on September 19.

Both the students and the faculty will appreciate the new car line, which goes by the doors of the university, and the new road which R. J. Freeman, the DeKalb county commissioner, is about to construct.

Citizens of Atlanta will be particularly interested to know that the road in front of Oglethorpe university has already been widened and men are at work grading the new road bed.

Work is proceeding rapidly on the new railway station, which, with its approaches and water connections, will cost approximately $10,000. It will be built of granite, covered with variegated slates, and will form both a valuable and beautiful addition to the university campus.

GRIFFIN MAY SECURE BIG AVIATION CAMP

Gov. Dorsey Will Recommend Selection of City by the War Department.

Governor Dorsey will recommend to the war department the selection of Griffin as a site for a proposed aviation camp. The department plans to locate "somewhere in Georgia" a camp where approximately 5,000 enlisted men may be trained for duty with the aviation signal corps.

Selection of Griffin was announced Wednesday after Governor Dorsey had been in communication with a number of Georgia cities regarding the plan. Griffin, said the governor, offered the best facilities. Grounds, buildings and lighting facilities must be furnished by the city at which the camp is to be located.

Governor Dorsey has asked the board of trade of Griffin to submit a detailed proposition of just what it has to offer the government.

EXORBITANT CHARGES MADE BY SPECULATORS

Defaulting Taxpayers Will Continue to Suffer Until State Law Is Changed.

Speculators in city fi. fas. are charging defaulting taxpayers exorbitant sums before they can recover their property, and the city is helpless to prevent this practice, since the speculators are protected by a state law, according to testimony given yesterday afternoon before the tax committee of city council.

Alderman Jonas Ewing announced at the close of the meeting that he would petition the legislature next summer for a revision of the state law whereby the practice would be stopped.

"It is not fair to allow these speculators to charge exorbitant prices to property owners just because they were unable to pay their taxes on time," said the alderman.

As City Attorney James L. Mayson ruled that the state law made the speculators secure in their rights to charge property owners whatever price they wished for the recovery of their property, the committee adjourned without any action beyond Alderman Ewing's informal declaration that he would appeal to the state legislature.

Intimations that city officials were in collusion with certain speculators, furnishing information to them about choice pieces of property on which taxes were in default, were not supported by the evidence before the committee.

UNDERWOOD ELECTED COUNSEL OF SEABOARD

Atlantan Retires as Assistant Attorney General to Accept New Position.

Baltimore, August 29.—(Special.)—As predicted recently by The Constitution, formal announcement was made at the Baltimore offices of the Seaboard Air Line Railway company today of the election of E. Marvin Underwood as general counsel of that company. Mr. Underwood retires from the position of assistant attorney general of the United States, which position he has held for the past three and a half years, to accept this position with the Seaboard.

E. MARVIN UNDERWOOD,
Of Atlanta, who retires as assistant attorney general of United States to become general counsel of the Seaboard Air Line Railway company.

Mr. Underwood is a native of Georgia and a graduate of Vanderbilt university. He was a resident of Atlanta and a member of the well known law firm of King, Spalding & Underwood, of that city, until he accepted the position of assistant attorney general.

Mr. Underwood attained an enviable reputation as a railroad attorney especially, while a member of the firm of King, Spalding & Underwood, which led to the offer being made him to become assistant attorney general. During his incumbency of the latter position Mr. Underwood had charge of the railroad cases of the government, among others the famous Adamson law case, the constitutionality of which was tested and which Underwood won before the supreme court. Mr. Underwood comes to the Seaboard with a ripe legal experience. He is one of the popular administrative attorneys of Washington. Hon. Legh R. Watts, whom Mr. Underwood succeeds, some time ago requested the Seaboard to relieve him of the active duties of so arduous an office as general counsel, having been with the Seaboard for forty-three years. The railway, appreciating the great services of Judge Watts and his devotion to its interests, continuing as they had for so many years, declined to entirely relieve him, and elected him to the position of consulting counsel.

Mr. Underwood will assume the position of general counsel on September 1.

Austrian and Chinaman Start War of Their Own, Court Acting as Arbiter

Joe Jung is a Chinaman and C. H. Martin is an Austrian. They live next door to each other in Scott street. Without waiting for either nation to officially declare war on the other, the Scott street neighbors started hostilities of their own. Result: A case for the arbitration court, with Judge T. O. Hathcock sitting as arbiter.

Martin, the Austrian, has chickens, pigs, dogs and other pets. Joe, the Chinaman, has children—and a garden. Joe built himself a fence to keep out Martin's menagerie. Martin tore it down. He wanted no "great wall" around his property. Joe built him another with a nice gate attached. He says Mrs. Martin tore down the new gate.

With the gate down, Joe says, Martin's dogs came through to his garden and bit one of his children. The menagerie, he says, put the kibosh on his garden. Joe got mad; he also got a warrant for the Martins. Before Judge Hathcock came the trio. Result: The Martins were ordered to rebuild Joe's fence and keep their animals from his garden. They were given until September 8 to finish the job.

Martin told Judge Hathcock in municipal court Wednesday that he'd get "square" with Joe by building a fence so high that no Atlantan could look over and "no red ant small enough" to get through the cracks. And he's started the job.

Bishop, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—Bishop's first bale was sold today to J. W. Smith for 30 cents a pound by J. O. Chandler. Mr. Smith sold the bale to John W. Welch, of Athens, Ga., for 30 cents.

LIEUTENANT SMITH WILL TRAIN FLYERS ON TORONTO FIELDS

Atlanta friends of First Lieutenant Lawton V. Smith are gratified to learn of his splendid record in the aviation division of the army. Lieutenant Smith is now en route to Toronto, Canada, where he has been sent to train about 200 men for the aviation field in France.

Since May Lieutenant Smith has won many honors, among them being a bride. He was formerly in the office of the adjutant general of Georgia, and while there was awarded a scholarship in the aviation school at Newport News. When the guard was ordered to the Mexican border, he was transferred to the aviation camp at Mineola, where, last May, he was commissioned first lieutenant. He was then sent to Washington.

On August 7 Lieutenant Smith was married to Miss Vashti Carter, an Atlanta girl, now of New York, a touch of romance being added by the fact that the ceremony was performed in the famous Little Church Around the Corner.

Lieutenant Smith then was sent to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and in a few days was given command of the Twenty-eighth Aero squadron, which he will train in Toronto. His bride will join him in Toronto, after spending ten days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith, of 145 Williams Mill road.

PUBLIC COMFORT STATIONS TO BE ERECTED IN CITY

At a joint meeting Wednesday of the public comfort committee of council, a special committee and the committee in charge of training camp activities it was decided that it was necessary to build public comfort stations of a temporary nature at once in order to accommodate the soldiers who are to come to Camp Gordon.

The comfort stations will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, it was estimated at Wednesday's meeting. Plans for financing the scheme will be considered this afternoon at a joint meeting of council's special committee, representatives of the county commission, and the training camp activities committee.

W. H. Johnson, who has long advocated the fight in council for permanent comfort stations somewhere near the center of the city, preferably in the basement of city hall, announced that he would attempt at council's meeting next Monday to have permanent stations built instead of temporary ones.

$10,000 COMPENSATION WON BY W. A. CARLISLE

A decree for $10,000 was issued in the United States court yesterday to W. A. Carlisle, as compensation for work done for C. Elmer Smith and Eugene L. Ashley in aiding them in obtaining rights-of-way and organizing a corporation to take over the property of the North Georgia Electric company, which included dam and water sites. Mr. Carlisle's work dated back to 1912.

All this property is now part of the Georgia Railway and Power company and was part of the properties involved in the development of water power at Tallulah Falls, Gainesville and Newnan.

THINGS THAT HAPPEN IN A MOVING PICTURE

All isn't beer and skittles in putting on a reel drama, that is, all isn't acting, for there is much that is real, at least that is true in "The Barrier," Rex Beach's play of life on the last frontier—Alaska—at the Criterion this week. When one sits in the orchestra and watches the smoothly moving scenes—romance, struggles, fights, daring chances—passing easily by, the thought that events shown actually are happening allows little thought to the reality.

An instance of this may be cited in the scene in "The Barrier," where Runnion has drawn a gun and got the drop on Lieutenant Meade Burrell, 'Poleon suddenly strikes Runnion across the arm with a bottle filled with "John Barleycorn," the real stuff for color effect. Under ordinary conditions this bottle would be made of paraffin, but the hot weather melted the make-believe bottle and, as the scene was laid far from the stock room, the only course left open was to use a genuine glass bottle.

In the excitement of the tense scene, 'Poleon forgot of the property bottle's absence and smote Runnion a terrific crack with the glass bottle. The result was that Runnion got a pretty bad wound, and later when he is struck with the butt of a gun and falls to the floor the fragments of the bottle cut his leg badly.

Through all one never hears an actor complain, that is not the stuff of which moving picture actors are made. They know that the scene will have to be gone through only two or three times in order to be shown a million or more, and they take the big chance every time.

GOVERNOR AND STAFF CALL ON GENERAL SWIFT

Governor Hugh M. Dorsey and several members of his staff called upon Major General Eben Swift, commander of Camp Gordon, at the Georgian Terrace hotel, Wednesday afternoon, returning the call made several days ago by the general upon the governor at the state capitol.

Members of his staff with Governor Dorsey were Lieutenant Colonels N. M. McCullough, James Robinson and Edward Lyle.

CAPTAIN JOHN SEAY DIES

Came Here to Further Candidacy for Game Warden.

Captain John Seay, of Dawson, Ga., deputy warden of the state farm at Milledgeville, died unexpectedly about 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Empire hotel. The cause of his death is believed to have been an attack of acute indigestion.

He was in Atlanta Wednesday with a view of furthering his candidacy for the position of state game warden. Many of his friends from different sections of the state were here to see the governor in his behalf. Though not feeling well in the early part of the morning, a number of his friends visited him at the hotel, and several of them were with him up to a short time before he died.

Captain Seay had held his position for almost three years, and was not only popular in his own community, but in every section of the state where he was known.

He is survived by his wife and one sister, Miss Jennie Seay.

Rube Bressler Beats Barons With Assistance of Moran And New Batting Order

By Dick Jemison.

Birmingham, Ala., August 29.—(Special.)—Rube Bressler, Roy Moran and a shaken-up batting order were the heroes of the Crackers' 8-to-3 comeback in the third game of the series with the Birmingham Barons this afternoon.

After being given two artistic trimmings by Ponder and Black, and playing worse than the worst amateur team in existence for two days, they came back this afternoon and played in their real form.

Ralph Comstock was the hurler that got the "country dressing." Charley Frank, sitting in the lobby of the Hillman last night, predicted "some pitcher will get a good country dressing tomorrow to pay for today's drubbing we got," and his prediction came true.

Bressler stood the Barons on their heads for seven innings. The first thirteen men to face him went out in order. Then he walked Johnston in the fifth. He got the next six men in order, then Sheehan tripled to left. He got the next two easily. Of the first twenty-three men to face him he got twenty-one, and none of them scored.

The Barons staged a rally in the eighth, which netted them three runs, but this rally was short-lived, as the big southpaw tightened in the ninth and got the three batters in order.

But Rube coupled his fifteenth straight, well-pitched game, with hitting that would make Ty Cobb turn green with envy.

With McDonald and Munch on the pathways in the fourth, he packed the old ball game on ice by combing a curve ball between Sheehan and Coombs to the flagpole in centerfield, loping around the circuit after Tex and Jake, and pulling up at the plate under wraps. He singled in the sixth, and in the eighth, with Perkins on first, he hammered a drive even farther than the first one, and was going to the bench for his drink of water before the ball got back to the infield. Rube got as many hits as the entire Birmingham team.

Roy Moran gave Rube noble assistance. The fleet leftfielder poled a single, a double, a triple and got a base on balls in four times up, giving the Crackers' attack the impetus necessary and Rube Bressler putting on the finishing touches.

The first five Crackers in the batting order stole a base apiece. Moran, Perkins and Bressler tallied a couple of runs apiece. O'Mara, with two hits, and Reilly and Perkins, with one each, got the Crackers' other hits in the ten they made off the Baron spitballer.

The Crackers gave Rube fine support and so effectively did he pitch that but two hard chances were the result. O'Mara made a great running stop of Caton's grounder in the opening inning, while Reilly made one of the most sensational one-handed stops of a vicious drive from Comstock's bat in the fourth that has ever been seen here. The wallop spun him around like a top, but he fielded the ball to first for the putout.

In the fourth inning the Crackers came near being without the services of their third baseman for the remainder of the season, when one of Comstock's spitters hit McDonald on the head and he dropped like a shot. It was several minutes before he revived and was able to continue. Tonight he has a lump on his head as big as an orange and is suffering a severe headache.

The Cracker batting order as used today was chosen by the players themselves. Manager Frank got them together this morning and insisted that they have a meeting and choose their own batting order, then he left the room and let them pick it out for themselves. The success of their choosing was apparent. Frank's method is also to be commended, as it lent a personal element to the game, as the boys were playing practically under their own supervision.

The Crackers got a one-run lead in the opener, when, with one gone, Webb booted Thrasher's grounder. Moran singled to right, and Thrasher pulled up at third. Frank tallied on the double steal.

The big blow-off came in the fourth. Moran greeted Comstock to start the inning with a triple. McDonald was hit in the head. Mayer nearly knocked Comstock down with a drive through the box, but he grabbed the pellet and got Sammy at first, Tex going to second. Jake Munch was purposely walked. Cy Perkins combed one a mile to centerfield, Sheehan getting under it for a nice catch, Moran scoring after the catch. Bressler then hammered one over Sheehan and Coombs' head for the circuit.

In the fifth Moran opened with a double against the right field fence. Webb momentarily fumbled the ball, and Moran lit out for third, beating the throw there by a fraction. McDonald was again hit hard by a pitched ball. Mayer hit a fly to Coombs, on which Moran scored.

In the eighth Perkins singled, with one gone, and Bressler hit his second homer, scoring Cy ahead of him.

In their half the Barons got their only tallies. Haworth singled, Coombs walked, Comstock tripled off the right-field fence, scoring Haworth and Coombs, and Caton hit a sacrifice fly, scoring Comstock. Manager Molesworth will send Ponder back at the Crackers tomorrow. They have not beaten him a game this season. He has won five from us. The Crackers believe they will break his control of their goats. Phifer Fullenweider will be shot back at the Barons and the right-hander is primed for a good game. The prospects tonight are not much for a game, it is raining and has been threatening all day, but it may clear by morning. If it does, the Crackers are determined to even the series and go on to battle the league-leading Pels.

The Crackers are but one game behind.

M'GRAW CENSURED; AND DRAWS A FINE

On Charges Preferred by the New York Baseball Writers' Association Before League Directors.

New York, August 29.—John J. McGraw, manager of the New York baseball club, was fined $1,000 and censured and reprimanded today by the board of directors of the National league for approving an interview, subsequently published, containing an attack upon John K. Tener, president of the league.

This action was taken as the result of the demand for an investigation of the case by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, after McGraw had signed a statement repudiating the interview when brought before the league upon charges filed by President Tener.

The finding of the board, as announced after today's session, states that witnesses in the room with McGraw at the time of the alleged interview did not hear the remarks attributed to him. McGraw is held responsible, however, upon the grounds that he authorized and indorsed the statements contained in the interview when he accepted the original manuscript for his approval and returned it with the remark that it was "all right."

In connection with its action against McGraw the board announced:

"This is deemed by the board of directors a proper time to warn managers and other employees of the league that on any future conviction for an offense of this nature a penalty of suspension will be the minimum punishment."

AMERICAN LEAGUE

White Sox Win Two.

Chicago, August 29.—Chicago won both games of a double-header from St. Louis today, 6 to 0 and 11 to 1, and gained a full game on Boston, who had no game scheduled. Chicago now leads Boston by four and a half games.

In the first game Russell pitched in fine form, twirling his best ball in the pinches. In one inning, when the visitors started with a double and a single, Russell pitched ten balls to the next three batsmen and struck them out. Chicago, on the other hand, bunched its hits and executed some good base running.

In the second game the visitors began an assault upon Benz, who was taken out with men on second and third and one out. Danforth retired the side in one-two-three order in each inning except one, when his own wild throw to first enabled Sloan to reach third.

The list shows 127 players who have already been or who will be brought up from the minors and distributed among fifteen of the sixteen major league clubs. The Boston Americans did not get any players through this method, while the Boston Nationals obtained only one. The list includes:

FOOTBALL TEAM PROSPECTS GOOD AT OGLETHORPE

With two classes this year as opposed to the one class with which Oglethorpe university necessarily began life, the outlook for the football team is getting brighter and brighter. Arrangements have been made with Frank Anderson to continue his work in the football, baseball and basketball departments. The baseball team of the university last year managed to hold its own against varsity teams of the state, notwithstanding the first year enrollment, and with two classes this season old Oglethorpe can well expect to give other teams a tough battle.

Club Championship Will Start on Friday On Brookhaven Links

Many are expected to qualify for the golf championship tournament of the Capital City club, which starts over the club's course at Brookhaven next Friday. The eighteen holes are in splendid condition and an interesting tourney is due.

Players may qualify on either Friday or Saturday. The qualifying round of medal play will be from scratch, as will also be the match play in the first flight and the defeated eight of the first flight. Club handicaps will apply in all other flights.

A beautiful array of prizes is already on display at the country club house. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of all flights to the runner-up in the first flight.

Chicago Star Fielder Is Ordered to Report For Y. M. C. A. Work

Chicago, August 29.—Leslie Mann, star outfielder with the Chicago Nationals, was ordered today by the National Association of Y. M. C. A. to report at Camp Logan, Houston, Texas, at once to assume charge of physical work there, according to a dispatch from Brooklyn, where the club is playing. Mann, a graduate of the Y. M. C. A. college of Springfield, Mass., volunteered his services several weeks ago. He formerly coached at Amherst college in football and basketball.

CRACK LOCAL BOXERS TO MIX FRIDAY NIGHT

Kid York and Bud Conley, the two crack local boxers, will wind up their training grind today for their ten-round set-to at the Columbia theater Friday night. Both boys have been hard at work since they were first matched, and indications point to a rattling mill all the way.

Beside the main go there will be two four-round battles. In one of these bouts Charley South and Kid Ruddy will get together, while in the other mill, Young Britt and Young Attell will swap blows, making eighteen rounds of boxing in all.

Mide Saul, attired in his khaki uniform, will referee all the bouts. The first ten rows of the main floor are reserved for the scraps, which will be put on immediately after the theatrical performance.

Young Girl Golfers Playing Great Games At Western Tourney

Woman's Western Golf Title May Fall to Rival of "Little Bob" Jones and Perry Adair.

Chicago, August 29.—Miss Frances Hadfield, of Milwaukee, 17-year-old Wisconsin champion, and Miss Elizabeth Allen, of Rock Island, Ills., 16-year-old Iowa champion, tonight are the only out-of-town survivors in the seventeennth annual championship tournament of the Women's Western Golf association. Miss Louise Hunter, of Memphis, and Mrs. J. H. Livsey, of Detroit, suffered defeat in the second round of match play at Flossmoor Country club today, the Tennessean losing, to Miss Vida Llewellyn, of LaGrange, 2 down, in a hotly-contested match, and Mrs. Livsey succumbing to Mrs. J. W. Douglas, of Westmoreland, 6 and 4, through inconsistent playing.

Miss Hadfield found many bunkers and took 93 strokes for the round, but disposed of Mrs. Frances Brundage, of Olympia Fields, 3 and 1, a wider margin than that by which the victor won yesterday over Mrs. David Grant, of Memphis, with a medal score of 86. In the third round tomorrow the Milwaukeean will meet Mrs. F. S. Colburn, of Glen View, who today defeated Mrs. Chauncey Martyn, of Flossmoor, 6 and 5.

Miss Allen played good golf in defeating Mrs. Ralph Smalley, of Windsor, 2 and 1, scoring 42 on the second half and playing as well on the first half, except for two holes, where she became enmeshed with a creek and a pond. She will play tomorrow against the present champion, Mrs. Fred C. Letts, Jr., of Indiana Hill, who today beat Mrs. Melvin Jones, of Glen Oak, former Chicago champion, 5 and 4. Mrs. Letts was headed for a probable medal score of 88 when the match ended.

A large gallery saw Miss Elaine Rosenthal, of Ravisloe, north and south champion, score 43 on the first half, to be the only one up to Mrs. Samuel Kunstadter, of Idlewild, and within four of the next five holes in par or better for a 5-to-4 victory. Both women played well, but Miss Rosenthal's display of brilliancy in the second half was unbeatable. She will play Mrs. Douglass tomorrow.

Miss Louise Stumer, of Ravisloe, 16 years old, continued her precocious golf today, defeating Miss Marjorie Edwards, of Midlothian, 4 and 3 after gaining a lead of one hold on the first nine.

Miss Stumer scored 43 on the outward journey to 44 by her more experienced opponent and shot man's part on the remaining holes played. She will play Miss Llewellyn tomorrow.

The best medal score of the tournament was made today in consolation flight by Miss Ernestine Pearce, of Shokie, who tallied 45, 40, 85. Miss Pearce tied at 92 with Mrs. Kunstadter for gold medal honors in the qualifying round, but was defeated in the first match round by Miss Llewellyn, 4 and 2. Miss Pearce today took 8 on a comparatively short hole in the first nine, but had 8 birdles to offset that misadventure.

COTTON CONDITION NOT SO FAVORABLE

Too Much Rain in Mississippi and Florida, Too Dry in Carolinas, Rain Needed in Eastern Half of Northern and Central Georgia.

Washington, August 29.—The picking of cotton is in progress in all the southern cotton states, bolls were beginning to open in extreme southern Oklahoma and some bolls are full grown in Tennessee, says the weekly weather crop bulletin issued today by the department of agriculture. Too much rain was reported in parts of Mississippi and Florida, while it was much too dry in South Carolina and central and southwestern Texas, and rain was needed in the eastern half of northern and central Georgia and in the most of North Carolina. The nights were too cool in the eastern cotton area during the latter part of the week.

Cotton was doing well in northern and eastern Texas, but the drouth was causing a continued deterioration elsewhere in that state. The crop is very promising in Oklahoma. In Arkansas it was late, but had a good stand and was fruiting well. The prospect is generally good in Tennessee, while in northern Mississippi it is fruiting satisfactorily; the bolls were opening rapidly in southern Mississippi. Conditions were favorable in Alabama and the crop is reported to be from fair to excellent. It was too dry in the eastern half of northern and central Georgia, and the cool weather caused deterioration.

The bolls are opening fast in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi and picking was progressing rapidly in the southern portions of these states. Cotton was damaged by rain in northern and central Florida, and the weevil was reported to be active; the work of picking and ginning progressed well in this state.

There was a marked deterioration in the crop in South Carolina, except in portions of the west and northwest, where the conditions continued generally good. Bolls were opening rapidly and picking was general. The crop was beginning to show the effect of dryness in North Carolina, except in some eastern counties, where the moisture was ample. Weevil damage and shedding were reported from Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and southeastern Arkansas.

Rains were general in Arkansas, and moderate to heavy showers occurred in Oklahoma, north, central and southeastern Texas, and scattered showers in Louisiana and at a few localities in Mississippi, Alabama and along the Atlantic coast. Heavy rains: Louisiana—Shreveport, 1.62; New Orleans, 1.02; Minden, 2.90. Arkansas—Fort Smith, 1.24; Dardanelle, 1.34; Warren, 1.70; Bentonville, 1.40; Batesville, 2.18; Calicorock, 1.04; Eldorado, 1.24. Oklahoma—Durant, 1.60; Holdenville, 2.28; Okemah, 1.04. Summary of Weather and Crop Conditions in the Cotton Belt for the Week Ending August 28, 1917.

Washington, August 29.—Moderate to occasionally heavy showers occurred during the week in parts of Florida, Alabama, Oklahoma, northern Texas, and the lower Mississippi valley, but over large portions of the area little or no rain fell. Temperatures were below normal in the central and above normal in eastern and western districts. Too much rain for the best development of cotton occurred in sections of Mississippi and Florida, and it was too dry in extreme east and central and southern Texas. Considerable shedding and boll weevil damage wer reported in the south, but prospect continues quite satisfactory in the northern part of the area and in parts of central and south. Picking is general in the south; bolls opening well in the north. Conditions continue generally favorable for other crops in the south.—MARVIN.

Synopsis of Weather and Crop Conditions in Georgia for the Week Ending Tuesday, August 28, 1917.

The past week was generally dry and sunny and favorable, but the last few nights have been unusually cool, causing some deterioration in cotton. Very dry weather in the eastern half of the central and northern divisions has caused some injury to crops, especially cotton and field peas. Cotton is opening rapidly, some prematurely, and picking and ginning are progressing rapidly. Boll weevils are still doing more or less damage to cotton. Corn is maturing rapidly. Much corn fodder and hay were nicely saved during the week. Pastures and meadows continue in good condition. Digging sweet potatoes is progressing over much of the southern half of the state, with good yields. Rice is heading well. Winter vegetables continue to be planted. The apple crop is fair. Minor crops, especially sugar cane, peanuts, velvet beans, etc., continued good. Some field peas have been cut for hay in the drier regions of the state.

Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, August 29.—(Special.)—It was curiously assumed by the local trade that the president's reply to the pope would tend to bring about an immediate peace, therefore the advance today was based on this idea regardless of the years of domination of German thought and character by the present government.

The rains in southern, central and western Texas we assumed to have come too late to do any good; also to be insufficient on the advance. A large line which was bought around 23½ cents was liquidated. So great are the contrasts between the condition of the crop in the drought-stricken sections of Texas and the condition of the crop elsewhere through the cotton belt, that the trade are at sea regarding the bureau report, but on the whole they think it will be bullish.

Closed steady at a net decline of 16 to 23 points.

New York, August 29.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular today, with December selling between 22.05 and 22.58, closing at 22.20. The general list closed barely steady at a net decline of 10 to 20 points.

There was continued covering for over the government report Friday and the approaching holidays, but the demand of that sort was active after a rally of over a cent a pound from recent low levels, and the market was easier late in the afternoon under renewed liquidation.

The market opened steady at a decline of 10 to 20 points and sold 25 to 30 points net lower during the first few minutes on reports of rains in Texas and a favorable review of crop conditions in Oklahoma.

There was a good deal of covering on a scale down, and as soon as the early offerings had been absorbed the market firmed up on the western belt forecast for generally fair weather in Texas, reports that the rains shown there today had been in the least needy sections, and unfavorable features in the weekly report of the weather bureau.

Covering was also stimulated during the early afternoon by a private crop report making the condition 69.4 against 74.1 last month, with October selling up from 22.05, the early low point, to 22.55, while January advanced from 22.04 to 22.57.

This made an advance of about 21 to 25 points from last night's closing on the more active positions. Demand then tapered off and the market broke sharply in the late trading with last prices showing reactions of 30 to 40 points from the best. Detailed weather reports showed rains pretty well distributed over Texas, but the precipitation was in amounts of less than an inch at most places.

Spot cotton steady; middling, 23.40.

RAPID PRICE CHANGES IN NEW ORLEANS MARKET

New Orleans, August 29.—Rapid price changes within rather narrow limits were recorded in the cotton market today. During the greater part of the session prices were at a small net advance as the result of the covering operations of shorts, who were disappointed because of the unfavorable accounts of the weekly crop and weather reports. Final prices showed net losses of 16 to 23 points.

On the opening the market was off as a result of the rains in Texas overnight, but after selling down to a loss of 25 to 28 points shorts commenced to cover and this buying was increased by the weekly returns from the government at 10 o'clock. Most traders called these reports fairly favorable for this time of the year, but they were not up to the expectations entertained on the short side. The loss was recovered and replaced by a net advance which was finally widened to 16 to 25 points.

Spot accounts were better than they have been, a somewhat improved demand being reported both in the eastern and the western belts. Toward the end of the day the market felt offerings from early buyers for long account and also selling which appeared to be of the hedge variety and prices fell off almost to the lowest of the day.

New Orleans Spot.

Spot cotton quiet and unchanged. Sales on the spot, 99 bales; to arrive, 50; low middling, 21.87; middling, 22.50; good middling, 23.00. Receipts, 3,157; stock, 68,435.

70.1 COTTON CONDITION, ESTIMATE OF JAY & CO.

New York, August 29.—J. W. Jay & Co. say: The weather experienced throughout the cotton states since our July report was on the whole favorable for the reason that less than the usual August deterioration is indicated. Continued drouth in Texas, affecting about 50 per cent of the producing area of that state, resulted in serious damage there. The improvement in the other sections, however, has been sufficient to create an average condition, suggesting a yield approximately 13,000,000 bales (linters excluded) compared with the yield indicated in our July report of 12,500,000 bales. We do not deduct the usual 1 per cent for abandoned acreage in these figures, as we consider that the various additions, city crops, etc., are about an offset, therefore, the gain for the month is roughly 500,000 bales.

The average indicated percentage condition for the United States is 70.1.

STOCKS DECLINE AND THEN RALLY

At Lowest Levels War Issues 2 to 5 Points Down, But Standard Industrials Offered Resistance—Losses Regained Later.

New York, August 29.—Rejection by Washington of the vatican's peace plan evidently exerted no especial influence over today's stock market. Selling was renewed at the outset and continued during the forenoon on an enlarged scale. Offerings originated mainly from the bears who succeeded in picking out additional weak spots, but signs of liquidation were unmistakable at that period.

No section of the list escaped the attention of the short interest, although railroads and a few other high-grade investment shares yielded only slightly. The 1 to 3-point rallies of the afternoon resulted in a substantial readjustment of losses and some actual gains.

At their lowest levels war issues were 2 to 5 points down, but standard industrials offered resistance to pressure. United States Steel repeated its recent minimum quotation of 118⅛, but rallied to 119⅞ and closed at 119½, a net gain of ½-point. Other steels and affiliated equipments, together with minor metals and specialties, proved more vulnerable.

Motors were again weak, Studebaker establishing a new low record on its fall of 2 points to 44½, with a similar reversal for General Motors.

Shippings and tobaccos rebounded sharply from their first setback, the former leading in the general rally of the last hour with material recoveries for oils and coppers.

Another slump in rubles to 1840 shipment of an additional $500,000 gold to Japan and greater scarcity of time funds were among the related incidents of the day.

Bonds were irregular to heavy, with a wider range for the Liberty issue at 99.92 to 99.98. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,625,000.

United States bonds (old issues) were unchanged on call.

Where Georgia Dealers May Get Proper Blanks For Making Food Reports

Since the federal law requires that all firms having commercial stocks of foods shall make returns of what they have on hand or in transit on August 31, the United States department of agriculture, charged with carrying out the provisions of the law, has designated certain places within each state where the blank food survey schedules may be obtained.

These blanks are to be filled in duplicate, one copy to be retained by the reporting firm and the other to be sent to the department at Washington.

In Georgia the blanks may be obtained from the field agent in marketing, Georgia State College of Agriculture, at Athens, and from the office of the federal grain supervisor, 1710 Third National Bank building, Atlanta.

Sugar.

New York, August 29.—The market for raw sugar was easier and prices declined to the six-cent basis for Cubas under fresh offerings and a lack of aggressive demand. The sales were 22,000 bags of Cubas for prompt and first half September shipment at six cents, cost and freight, equal to 7.02 for centrifugal, and 8,000 bags of Porto Ricos for first half September shipment at 7.02 for centrifugal. The market closed unsettled at 6c for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 7.02 for centrifugal and 6.14 for molasses.

No new developments occurred in refined sugar and trading was light with the demand of a hand-to-mouth character. Prices were unchanged at 8.40 to 8.50 for fine granulated.

Dry Goods.

New York, August 29.—Cotton goods and yarns were quiet here today except merchandise for government purposes. Worsted yarns and burlaps were firm. Knit goods were quiet. Staple hosiery is to be opened for spring by some large houses on September 15.

GRAINS UNSETTLED ON MIXED OPINIONS

Corn Closes Strong, However, 1-4 to 5-8 Higher, and Oats Remain Firm—Traders Awaiting the Government's Wheat Action.

Chicago, August 29.—Mixed sentiment among traders was apparent today and resulted in an unsettled corn market though fluctuations were within comparatively narrow limits. Houses with eastern connections were prominent on the selling side and word came from the seaboard of offerings of Argentine cargoes at lower prices. Selling on the high points met good absorbing powers and the finish was well toward top prices for the day. The close was strong ¼ to ⅝c higher, with December at $1.08½ and May at $1.05⅝ to $1.05¾. Oats gained ¼ to ⅜c. Cash wheat closed firm. Provisions made gains of from 22 to 75 cents.

Strength of cash corn contributed firmness to the futures and buyers of corn were further influenced by the weekly government weather and crop report which was moderately bullish, containing the statement that large areas would need favorable weather to mature the crop before damage is liable from frost.

Wheat traders eagerly awaited word of the government fixing wheat prices. The cash market was firm, but volume of trading was not large. It was expected that the price set on wheat by the government would have an important bearing on the settlement figures for outstanding contracts on the September option.

Oats trade was not of impressive quantity, but the market held generally firm and September final figures were virtually even with the December prices. Light country offerings were a determining factor for firmness. Cash values held steady.

Hog strength and a good demand were controlling elements which caused provision prices to advance. Packers were credited with buying and much of the selling was of a realizing nature.

New High Record for Modern Times

Silver is rapidly remonetizing itself. The purchasing power of gold is decreasing and the price of silver is rising, thus economically tending to bring values of these metals closer together. The silver stocks are advancing in sympathy with quotations on the white metal. There is only one safe rule to be guided by in the stock market, and that is, advancing quotations for products will be reflected by higher earnings and consequently higher market quotations. Just as advancing prices for copper or steel products are reflected by higher quotations for copper and steel stocks, so higher prices for silver metal means higher prices for silver stocks.

Our latest Silver Summary will give you full information in regarding the silver market, as well as many valuable suggestions regarding standard silver securities which enjoy wide markets. A copy will be sent free upon request.

New York, August 29.—(Special.)—August, generally a month of deterioration for cotton and the 2,040 reports received from special correspondents of this paper of an average date. August 23, show a decline of 3.7 points compared with a loss of 10.1 points a year ago and 6.6 points in 1915. # BIG EXPORT TRAFFIC FOR SOUTHERN PORTS

Foodstuffs for Europe to Go From Gulf and South Atlantic Cities.

Washington, August 29.—Diversion to gulf and south Atlantic ports of virtually all movement of foodstuffs destined for export to Europe is planned as a government war measure to relieve congestion of railroads and ports in the east.

New Orleans, Savannah, Charleston and Port Arthur are the ports which will be made the chief loading points.

The plan will be worked out by the shipping board in co-operation with the shippers, ship owners and port authorities. The shipping board will appoint soon a general traffic director, who will be put in charge of the program. It was said tonight the place probably would go to Benjamin L. Winchell, of Chicago, now traffic director of the Union Pacific railroad.

The shipping board hopes to have the and bad weather have made transcontinental freight traffic still harder to move. Officials who have given the subject thought declare the proposal will add 25 to 30 per cent to the efficiency of American railway systems, and will do away with the present congestion of freight in northeastern ports.

The chief advantage claimed for the arrangement suggested is that export food, largely a western and middle western product, will get a shorter haul and that munitions and other manufactured products, turned out largely in the east, will not be delayed in shipment while awaiting their turn with raw products.

Under the traffic director the shipping board will name three shipping directors, one for trans-Atlantic trade, another for South American trade, and a third for the Pacific. These men will be chosen on the recommendation of the traffic director himself, and no names at present are under consideration, it was said tonight.

In all the important ports it is planned to appoint voluntary terminal committees to assist the traffic director in expediting the loading and sailing of vessels. These committees will be chosen soon and will be called to Washington for consultation with the shipping board as to the facilities at their several ports.

AMUSEMENTS.

Jan Rubini.
(At Loew's Grand.)

Jan Rubini, Sweden's greatest violin virtuoso, an artist of reputation both in Europe and America, will head the vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Rubini was a stranger to this country until a recent tour of America which took him to the west coast and back. He then entered vaudeville and became an over-night sensation. He is now receiving the highest salary ever paid a single man on the Loew circuit. He comes to Loew's Grand after playing two solid months in New York. Marshall and Welton, a dainty, talented couple, recent members of the cast of "Watch Your Step" on tour, are other newcomers to the south, offering bits from well-known musical comedies. The Kuiima company, another feature of the new bill, are clever magicians. Dwyer and Olive are a Scotch comedian and a very pretty partner. The feature picture is "The Triumph," starring Dorothy Phillips. Loew's Universal Current Events will show big happenings all over the world. There will be a children's matinee, showing "Modern Mother Goose," a big feature film, Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock.

"The Miracle."
(At B. F. Keith's Lyric.)

The swiftest and most far-reaching, thought-reading act Atlanta has ever seen is scheduled for B. F. Keith's Lyric the last half of this week in "The Miracle," an act in which the wishes of the audience as to tunes are not only played, but are sung as well by an impressionable young lady. The act is declared to be nothing short of amazing.

In addition Manager Hickman will offer four more big features: Girard and Gardner, in a comedy sketch; Maude Ryan, singing comedienne; Orbissani's Cockatoos, and Clark and Lavier, eccentric comedians. There also will be the latest in the way of Hearst-Pathe news pictures and Burton Holmes travelogue.

George M. Cohan.
(At the Rialto.)

The realism of the big country hotel set used in George M. Cohan's new Artcraft picture at the Rialto theater, was proved conclusively during the filming of this photoplay recently when a waiter approached George M. Cohan and asked him who had ordered a cup of coffee. The popular comedian, always ready for a joke, replied that a man in room four sent for it, whereupon the waiter promptly ran up the stairs to the hotel balcony and after a few minutes' search shouted that there was no room four in that hotel.

"Transgression."
(At the Strand.)

Miss Corinne Griffith, the youthful and talented Greater Vitagraph star, is intensely loyal. Although she now may be considered as thoroughly transplanted and flourishing up northerner, her mind constantly reverts to her native state, Texas, where her happy childhood was passed. And although Miss Griffith loves and is heart and soul in every new play in which she is featured, she looks forward to the day when someone will write a real motion picture play of her old days in Texas. Miss Griffith is certain there is material there for a masterpiece and she wants to take the leading part when it comes along. Miss Griffith supports Earle Williams in "Transgression" at the Strand today.

"Aloha Oe."
(At the Odeon.)

The story of a brilliant but dissipated lawyer who becomes the worshipped member of a South Sea Island tribe is told in "Aloha Oe," at the Odeon today. Willard Mack is the lawyer and Enid Markey is the chieftain's daughter, whom he marries. It begins with the turmoil of a great trial. The lawyer, crazed by drink and the strain of his labors, is shipped by his friends on a sailing vessel so that he may recover his manhood in a new environment. The vessel is wrecked and he is the only survivor, being rescued by the natives on a South Sea Island. A month later he is shown as a worthless drunkard, who knocks down a native and takes away a bottle of liquor. He escapes to the mountains, where he crawls through a cave to the other side. He is awakened from sleep by falling ashes from a volcano, and while making his escape comes across Enid Markey, the chieftain's daughter.

"Pride and the Man."
(At the Vaudette.)

William Russell, the widely-known film star who was once amateur heavyweight boxing champion of the United States, has been furnished with a vehicle which displays his boxing talent in a hard bout with Al Kaufman, former professional heavyweight, in one of the most realistic ring spectacles ever filmed. The fight occurs in "Pride and the Man," a new Mutual-American production in which Mr. Russell is starred. The fight scene illustrates perfectly how two scientific boxers may appear to be killing each other with vicious uppercuts, swings, solar-plexus smashes and knockout punches, yet both emerge from the ring without a scratch. "Pride and the Man" is at the Vaudette today.

"The Woman in White."
(At Alamo No. 2.)

Today and Friday the Alamo No. 2 will present the beautiful Pathe star, Florence LaBadie in "The Woman in White," a screen adaptation of the novel of the same name by Wilkie Collins and one of the most popular books in light fiction which has ever been put upon the market. The picture tells the story of two arch villains who put a girl into the insane asylum because she knew too much about their villainy. The picture is one of action from the very first foot to the finish and has exciting scenes without number. Miss LaBadie adds to her past fame as an actress of exceptional versatility. An event of interest announced for Monday and Tuesday is the booking of the motion pictures taken behind the Austrian battle line by Captain Kleinschmidt, the American correspondent entitled "War on Three Fronts."

Warren Kerrigan.
(At the Alpha.)

J. Warren Kerrigan in a first run feature bill entitled "Hands in the Dark," will be the attraction at the Alpha today. This is Kerrigan's first appearance in some time. Accompanying the Kerrigan feature is a two-reel comedy, "Dimple's Baby," featuring the dimpled darling of the screen, Lillian Walker.

Today at the Movies.

CRITERION—"The Barrier."

OLD MAN BADLY BEATEN; POLICE MAKING PROBE

John F. Head, apparently about 60 years old, of 491 Lee street, is at Grady hospital in a serious condition as the result of a severe beating given him by some unknown person.

The affair occurred early last night near Kirkwood. An examination at Grady revealed the fact that Head had been beaten seriously about the head with some heavy instrument. He received many gashes and bruises which may prove fatal.

The police are investigating.

WOMEN OF WAYCROSS RAISING HIGHWAY FUND

Waycross, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—The campaign the women of the city are conducting to raise funds for use in improving the Central Dixie highway is meeting with a hearty response here. Yesterday over one hundred dollars was raised, and pledges for more secured. It is proposed to raise money all along the central route for use in making repairs at such points as are not given immediate attention by the county authorities.

All Traces of Scrofula Eradicated from the System

By the greatest of all purifiers.

A common mistake in the treatment of scrofula has been the use of mercury and other mineral mixtures, the effect of which is to bottle up the impurities in the blood, and hide them from the surface.

The impurities and dangers are only added to in this way.

For more than fifty years S. S. S. has been the one recognized reliable blood remedy that has been used with highly satisfactory results for Scrofula. Being made of the roots and herbs of the forest, it is guaranteed purely vegetable, and absolutely free from all mineral ingredients.

You can obtain S. S. S. from any drug store. Our chief medical adviser is an expert on all blood disorders, and will cheerfully give you full advice as to the treatment of your own case. Address Swift Specific Co., Dept. P-39, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

INCREASING YOUR CREDIT

Credit is an essential part of capital. As business grows, credit must be increased proportionately.

Business men with good credit have found, to their surprise, that it is extremely difficult to increase it, even though they know their business justifies it.

In such cases a certified audit will do the work. It satisfies your bank as to your business expansion, and extended credit is promptly forthcoming.

Five Trunks of Whisky Are Seized at Waycross As Negro Races With Auto

Waycross, Ga., August 29.—(Special.) Five trunks of whisky were seized by police here last night and a negro, Jim Gardner, arrested on a charge of violating the bone dry law. The whisky had just been delivered to the baggage room at the Union Station, when officers took possession.

Gardner, scenting trouble, endeavored to escape, but he was caught after a lively chase. Policemen C. A. Benefett and J. E. Shaw handled the case and made a record for the largest whisky raid ever made in Waycross. In each trunk were twenty-five quarts, all of it "good," as whisky grading goes. Gardner had the trunk checks hid in his sacks and the trunk keys were in his hat. He kept ahead of an automobile officers used in running him down for nearly a mile. The auto was going full speed, too, and Gardner was giving a first-class exhibition of how fast a negro can run when he gets an idea officers are after him.

It is believed the negro was merely acting as an agent for other parties. Whether the police will be able to learn from the negro who sent him for the whisky remains to be seen.

GAINESVILLE LOSES TWO DAMAGE SUITS

Gainesville, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—The city of Gainesville today lost two damage suits to its citizens, in the amount of $1,600, and twelve other suits are pending, which will be heard at the November term of Hall city court.

Today's suits were Lester C. Haynes, awarded $500 for his wife having stepped upon a defective water meter, which threw her and her baby to the sidewalk, the former sustaining considerable injuries, while in the second suit John A. Gaines was awarded $1,100 for damages to his lane down Flat Creek, because of the city's sewerage system.
